

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction	1
1 Feminist Conceptions of Power: A Critical Assessment	7
Power as Resource, 8
Power as Domination, 11
Power as Empowerment, 18
Conclusion, 24
2 The Genealogy of Power: Michel Foucault	31
Foucault's Conception of Power, 33
A Theory for Women? 37
A Theory for Feminists, 48
Limits to the Collaboration: Resistance, Agency, and Solidarity, 53
Conclusion, 56
3 Power Trouble: Judith Butler's Feminist Genealogy of Power	65
Performativity: Take One, 66
Performativity: Take Two, 71
Limitations to Performativity, 75
Conclusion, 81
4 The Power of Solidarity: Hannah Arendt	87
Foucault, Butler, and Arendt: An Unlikely Alliance, 88
Arendt's Conception of Power, 98
Beyond Sisterhood: Rethinking Solidarity, 103
A Limitation to Arendt's Conception of Power, 110

5 A Feminist Conception of Power	119
Defining Power, 121
Methodological Considerations, 129
Bibliography	139
Index	147