

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
Introduction	1
1. Sexual Difference as a Basis of Equality: An Introduction to Irigarayan Politics	7
2. Irigaray on Language: From the Speech of Dementia to the Problem of Sexual Indifference	23
3. Rethinking the Politics of Recognition: The Declaration of Irigarayan Sexuate Rights	42
4. Irigarayan Performativity: Is This a Question of Can Saying It Make It So?	56
5. Sexuate Genre : Ethics and Politics for Improper Selves	74
6. Anticipating Sexual Difference: Mediation, Love, and Divinity	90
7. Interrogating an Unasked Question: Is There Sexual Difference?	107
8. The Impossible Friend: Traversing the Heterosocial, the Homosocial, and the Successes of Failure	123
9. Sexed Discourse and the Language of the Philosophers: To Be Two	142
10. Effacement Redoubled? Between East and West	164
Conclusion	185
Notes	195
References	215
Index	225