

Contents

Preface	vii
1 Reconciling Conceptions of Justice James P. Sterba	1
Comments by Tibor R. Machan	39
Comments by Alison M. Jaggar	45
Comments by Carol C. Gould	53
2 Justice, Self, and Natural Rights Tibor R. Machan	59
Comments by Robert C. Solomon	107
Comments by James P. Sterba	110
3 Toward a Feminist Conception of Moral Reasoning Alison M. Jaggar	115
Comments by James P. Sterba	147
Comments by Carol C. Gould	151
Comments by Robert C. Solomon	155
4 Liberal Justice William A. Galston	157
Comments by Tibor R. Machan	181
Comments by Milton Fisk	188

5	Social Justice and the Limitation of Democracy	193
	Carol C. Gould
	Comments by Milton Fisk	212
	Comments by James P. Sterba	216
6	Justice and Universality	221
	Milton Fisk
	Comments by William A. Galston	245
	Comments by James P. Sterba	247
7	Justice as Vengeance, Vengeance as Justice: A Partial Response to Polymarchus	251
	Robert C. Solomon
	Comments by Alison M. Jaggar	301
	Comments by William A. Galston	305
	About the Authors	307