

Contents

---

Acknowledgments	vii
1 Ethical Reasoning and Moral Development	1
1.1. Introduction	1
1.2. Subjectivism and Kohlberg's Theory	3
2 Seven Ethical Positions	10
2.1. A Scheme of Classification	10
3 An Empirical Exploration	24
3.1. Moral Dialogues	24
3.2. The Absolutist	26
3.3. The Rigorist	29
3.4. The Minimal Objectivist	32
3.5. The Subjective Universalist	35
3.6. The Relativist	37
3.7. The Personalist	40
3.8. The Amoralist	43
3.9. The First Argument: The Quest for Foundations	45
3.10. The Second Argument: Confronting Moral Complexity	52
3.11. The Third Argument: Inevitable Indeterminacies	56
3.12. The Fourth Argument: Cosmic Neutrality	61

3.13. The Fifth Argument: The Demands of Conscience	70
3.14. The Sixth Argument: Overwhelming Obligations	74
4 Ethical Foundations and Liberal Theory	82
4.1. The General Pattern of Argument	82
4.2. The Jurisdiction Problem	89
4.3. The Foreseeability Problem	111
4.4. The Overload Problem	119
4.5. Avoiding Subjectivism	129
4.6. What Is Moral Development?	150
4.7. The Cultural Crisis of Liberalism	153
Appendixes	158
A. More on Kohlberg and the Empirical Study of Moral Reasoning	158
B. Ambiguous Cases	177
C. More on the Scheme of Ethical Positions	185
D. Moral Dilemmas	191
Index	195