

CONTENTS

---

Introduction

Developing a Theory of Capitalist Patriarchy and Socialist Feminism Zillah Eisenstein	5
Some Notes on the Relations of Capitalist Patriarchy Zillah Eisenstein	41
Feminist Theory and the Development of Revolutionary Strategy Nancy Hartsock	56
Motherhood, Reproduction, and Male Supremacy
Mothering, Male Dominance, and Capitalism Nancy Chodorow	83
The Struggle for Reproductive Freedom: Three Stages of Feminism Linda Gordon	107
Socialist Feminist Historical Analysis
The Nineteenth-Century Woman Suffrage Movement and the Analysis of Women's Oppression Ellen DuBois	137
Femininity and Capitalism in Antebellum America Mary P. Ryan	151

Capitalist Patriarchy and Female Work

Women's Domestic Labor Jean Gardiner	173
The Other Side of the Paycheck: Monopoly Capital and the Structure of Consumption Batya Weinbaum and Amy Bridges	190
Capitalism, Patriarchy, and Job Segregation by Sex Heidi Hartmann	206
Woman's Place Is at the Typewriter: The Feminization of the Clerical Labor Force Margery Davies	248
Patriarchy in Revolutionary Society
Emerging from Underdevelopment: Women and Work in Cuba Carollee Bengelsdorf and Alice Hageman	271
Introducing the Family Code Margaret Randall	296
When Patriarchy Kowtows: The Significance of the Chinese Family Revolution for Feminist Theory Judith Stacey	299
Socialist Feminism in America
The Berkeley-Oakland Women's Union Statement	355
The Combahee River Collective: A Black Feminist Statement	362
Dissolving the Hyphen: A Report on Marxist-Feminist Groups 1-5 Rosalind Petchesky	373
Notes on the Contributors	391