

Contents

Preface	ix
1 Introduction: Some Facts in the Case	1
A teenager and her family	1
The public world: wages, education, jobs	6
Violence, prejudice, the state	11

Part I: Theorizing Gender

2 Historical Roots of Contemporary Theory	23
Secular morality	23
Science and radicalism	26
Sex roles and syntheses	29
Feminism and gay liberation	32
Reaction and paradox	37
3 Current Frameworks	41
Extrinsic theories: from 'class first' through 'social reproduction' to 'dual systems'	41
Sex role theory	47
Categorical theory	54
Towards a practice-based theory	61
4 The Body and Social Practice	66
The knot of natural difference	66
Transcendence and negation	78
Practical transformations of the body	83

Part II: The Structure of Gender Relations

5	Main Structures: Labour, Power, Cathexis	91
	Structure and structural analysis	92
	Labour	99
	Power	107
	Cathexis	111
	A note on 'system' and composition	116
6	Gender Regimes and the Gender Order	119
	Institutions	119
	The family	121
	The state	125
	The street	132
	The gender order	134
	A note on the definition and institutionalization of gender	139
7	Historical Dynamic	143
	Historicity and 'origins'	143
	The course of history	150
	Crisis tendencies	158

Part III: Femininity and Masculinity

8	Sexual Character	167
	Unitary models and sex difference research	167
	Masculinity/femininity scales	171
	Multiple models: from typology to relationship	175
	The effect of structures	180
	Hegemonic masculinity and emphasized femininity	183
9	The Mystery in Broad Daylight: Gender Formation and Psychoanalysis	191
	Socialization	191
	Classical psychoanalysis: the dynamic unconscious	196
	Existential psychoanalysis: the project	211
10	Personality as Practice	219
	Personality, society and life history	219
	The historical dynamic in personality	224
	Politics of personality	228

Part IV: Sexual Politics

11	Sexual Ideology	241
	Discourse and practice	241
	Ideological processes	245
	Cultural dynamics	250
	Ideologists and interests	253
12	Political Practice	259
	The scope of sexual politics	259
	The articulation of interests	262
	Working-class feminism	265
	Liberation movements: birth and transformation	270
13	Present and Future	278
	The present moment	278
	Strategies	280
	Concluding notes on the world to which a social theory of gender might lead	286
	Bibliography	294
	Index	317