

CONTENTS

PART ONE THE HUMAN JOURNEY AS UNDERTAKEN IN AMERICAN LIFE

1 THE SOURCES OF A VISION OF MAN

the rediscovery of the new world.....	3
the journey west: an American orientation.....	15
a frontier conception of man and mankind.....	27

2 MAN'S FREEDOM: ITS EXPRESSION AND ITS JUSTIFICATION

force and form: the Shaker intuition of simplicity.....	39
romantic democracy: the individual in society.....	50
creation and responsibility: the damned human race....	58
an American theme and problem.....	71

PART TWO MAN'S BEING IN AMERICAN EXPERIENCE: CHARACTER, NATURE AND MANKIND

3 CREATIVITY, EXPERIENCE AND THE INDIVIDUAL

the romantic appeal to experience.....	77
the romantic interpretation of experience: self-reliance	86
the romantic interpretation of experience: character and confidence	91
experience and nature	97
character, responsibility and mankind.....	104

4	THE IDEA OF MANKIND: A PERFECTED RACE
	the individual, society and mankind.....	109
	the individual and the nation.....	114
	minorities and the human community.....	118
	a common will to the perfection of mankind.....	124
	conservation or creation?	129
5	THE IDEA OF MANKIND: A COMMON HUMANITY
	social forces and the brotherhood of man.....	135
	Joseph Royce and the drama of effort.....	138
	society and the human will.....	142
	purpose: implicit direction or contingent action?.....	148
	conflict and public action.....	151
	power or principle?	154
	the freedom to be.....	158
6	A MEANING OF THE NEW WORLD
	the unknown, fear and freedom.....	163
	enduring freedom	167
	the unique self	172

	NOTES.....	177
--	------------	-----

	INDEX.....	197
--	------------	-----