

Contents

1.	Introduction	1
2.	Hobbes: The New Political Science and Its Dependence on Language	16
3.	Language, Signification, and Meaning in Hobbes and Locke	43
4.	Wittgenstein's Philo- sophical Investigations : A Critique of the Commonsense Notion of Language	73
5.	Wittgenstein's Account of Meaning	96
6.	Aristotle's Ethics : The Place of Classical Political Science	122

7.	Plato's Meno : The Method of Classical Political Science	155
8.	Wittgenstein and Political Philosophy	190