

Contents

Introduction	vii
--------------	-----

A. HOME AND EXILE

Dave Morley and Kevin Robins No Place Like Heimat : Images of Home(land) in European Culture	3
David Kazanjian and Anahid Kassabian Naming the Armenian Genocide	33
Elizabeth Grosz Judaism and Exile: The Ethics of Otherness	57
Glenn Bowman Tales of the Lost Land: Palestinian Identity and the Formation of Nationalist Consciousness	73
Renata Salecl National Identity and Socialist Moral Majority	101
Peter Hulme Islands of Enchantment: Extracts from a Caribbean Travel Diary	111
McKenzie Wark Vectors of Memory ... Seeds of Fire: The Western Media and the Beijing Demonstrations	129

B. ENGLISHNESS AND IMPERIALISM

Gavin Chambers Narratives of Nationalism: Being 'British'	145
---	-----

CONTENTS

James Donald How English Is It? Popular Literature and National Culture	165
Gail Ching-Liang Low His Stories? Narratives and Images of Imperialism	187
Benita Parry The Contents and Discontents of Kipling's Imperialism	221
Gail Ching-Liang Low White Skins/Black Masks: The Pleasures and Politics of Imperialism	241
<h3>C. CITY SPACE</h3>
Victor Burgin Chance Encounters: Flâneur and Detraquée in Breton's Nadja	269
Donatella Mazzoleni The City and the Imaginary	285
Kevin Robins Prisoners of the City: Whatever Could a Postmodern City be?	303
Peter D. Osborne Milton Friedman's Smile: Travel Culture and the Poetics of a City	331
Kristin Ross Rimbaud and Spatial History	357
Meaghan Morris Metamorphoses at Sydney Tower	379
Notes on Contributors	397