

CONTENTS

PREFACE ix

INTRODUCTION i

CHAPTER ONE 8

Beyond Possessive Individualism

Possessive Neo-Individualism 12 Transcendental Humanism 16
"Egophany" and the "End of Man" 21 Reductio Hominis 29

CHAPTER TWO 38

Intersubjectivity and Political Community

HUSSERL AND HEIDEGGER 41 Life-world and Monadology: Husserl 42 Some Post-Husserlian Views 48 Egology and Being and Time 56 Heidegger and Co-being 64

FRENCH PHENOMENOLOGY 71 The Look and Interpersonal Conflict:
Sartre 72 Interworld and Reversibility: Merleau-Ponty 90
Language and Difference: Derrida 107

CRITICAL MARXISM 115 History and Class Consciousness:
Lukács 116 Critical Theory and Non-identity: Horkheimer and Adorno 127

MODES OF SOCIALITY: A TYPOLOGY 137

CHAPTER THREE 144

Man and Nature: Prospects of a "Humanistic Naturalism"

Nature and Human Freedom: Ricoeur 148 Perceptual Faith:
Merleau-Ponty 153 Nature and "Supplement": Derrida 160
Implications for Political Theory 167

CHAPTER FOUR 174

Human Development and Social Evolution

Habermas on Human and Social Development 179 Some Critical
Comments 198 Adorno on "Natural History" 211

CHAPTER FIVE 220

Ordinary Language and Ideal Speech

Deriving Ought from Is: Searle 224 Conceptual Deduction: Gewirth and Frohock 233 Transcendental Pragmatics: Apel 245 Ethics and Recollection 250

APPENDIX 255

Abeunt studia in mores: Berlin on Vico and Herder 257 Tale of
Two Cities: Ricoeur's Political and Social Essays 264 On Critical
Theory 270

NOTES 295

INDEX 353