

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction	1
PART 1: Framing the Inquiry
1. Pursuing Global Justice	13
2. A Half-Century of Human Rights	37
3. Taking Human Rights Seriously at Home	57
4. Moving Toward Implementation	67
5. Patterns of Global Dominance and Non-Western Attitudes Toward Human Rights	87
PART 2: Substantive Dilemmas
6. Revisiting the Right of Self-Determination	97
7. Group Claims within the UN System: The Rights of Indigenous Peoples	127
8. The Geopolitics of Exclusion: The Case of Islam	147
9. The Unmet Challenges of Genocide in Bosnia and Rwanda	165
10. The Challenge of Genocidal Politics in an Era of Globalization	173
PART 3: The Future Prospect
11. The Extension of Human Rights to Past and Future Generations	189
12. The Redress of Past Grievances: The Nanking Massacre	199
13. Morality and Global Security: A Human Rights Perspective	217
Notes	235
Index	267