

Contents /

	Preface	ix
One /	Contesting Cultures "Westernization," Respect for Cultures, and Third-World Feminists	I
Two /	Restoring History and Politics to "Third-World Traditions" Contrasting the Colonialist Stance and Contemporary Contestations of Sati	41
Three /	Cross-Cultural Connections, Border-Crossings, and "Death by Culture" Thinking About Dowry-Murders in India and Domestic-Violence Murders in the United States	81
Four /	Through the Looking-Glass Darkly Emissaries, Mirrors, and Authentic Insiders as Preoccupations	119
Five /	Eating Cultures Incorporation, Identity, and Indian Food	159
	Notes	189
	Index	221