

Contents

Acknowledgments

vii

INTRODUCTION

The Unsteady March

1

ONE

“Bolted with the Lock of a Hundred Keys”

The Era of Slavery, 1619–1860

10

TWO

“Thenceforward, and Forever Free”

The Civil War, 1860–1865

47

THREE

“The Negro Has Got as Much as He Ought to Have”

Reconstruction and the Second Retreat, 1865–1908

72

FOUR

“The Color Line”

Jim Crow America, 1908–1938

106

FIVE

"Deutschland and Dixieland"

Antifascism and the Emergence of Civil Rights, 1938–1941

136

SIX

"Double V: Victory Abroad, Victory at Home"

World War II

161

SEVEN

"Hearts and Minds"

The Cold War and Civil Rights, 1946–1954

202

EIGHT

"There Comes a Time"

The Civil Rights Revolution, 1954–1968

242

NINE

"Benign Neglect"?

Post–Civil Rights America, 1968–1998

288

CONCLUSION

Shall We Overcome?

317

Notes

353

Index

407