

Table of Contents

Frontispiece: The Sun and Its Planets	i
Preface	ix
A Prefatory Note by the Authors on the History of the Suppression of the First Edition of this Work	xiv
1 Introduction: Summary of Major Findings and Conclusions	1
2 The Pentagon-CIA Archipelago	41
2.1 Neo-Colonialism and the Washington Connection	42
2.1.1 The Systematic Positive Relationship between U.S. Aid and Human Rights Violations	42
2.1.2 U.S. Military and Police Aid and Training and the Spread of Fascism	47
2.1.3 The Scope and Variety of CIA Subversive Activities	50
2.1.4 The Pre-Eminence of Favorable Investment Climate	53
2.1.5 The Economic Role of Terror: Preserving and Enlarging Military, Comprador and Foreign Income Shares	54
2.1.6 Counterrevolution and the “Shakedown” States	61
2.2 Brainwashing Under Freedom	66
2.2.1 Sources and Processes	71
2.2.2 The Case of the Lost Bloodbath: The Supply of and the Demand for Communist Atrocities	79
3 Benign Terror	85
3.1 The Semantics of Terror and Violence: Retail Violence as “Terror”—Wholesale Violence as Maintaining “Order” and “Security”	85
3.2 Benign and Constructive Terror	95
3.3 Post-Colonial Rot and Permanent Counterrevolution	99
3.4 Benign Terror	105
3.4.1 East Pakistan: Tilting Towards Massacre	105
3.4.2 Burundi: “The Limitations of U.S. Power”	106
3.4.3 The Indians of Latin America: The Non-Civilized in the Way of “Progress”	109
3.4.4 East Timor: Genocide on the Sly	129

4 Constructive Terror	205
4.1 Indonesia: Mass Extermination, Investors' Paradise	205
4.2 Thailand: A Corrupt "Firm Base"	218
4.3 Repacification in the Philippines	230
4.4 The Dominican Republic: U.S. Model for Third World Development	242
4.5 Latin America: Proliferating Subfascism	251
4.5.1 The Nazi Parallel: The National Security State and the Churches	251
4.5.2 Notes on Some Insecurity States in Latin America	263
5 Bloodbaths in Indochina: Constructive, Nefarious and Mythical	299
5.1 Constructive Bloodbaths in Vietnam	300
5.1.1 French and Diemist Bloodbaths	301
5.1.2 The Overall U.S. Assault as the Primary Bloodbath	304
5.1.3 Operation SPEEDY EXPRESS	313
5.1.4 The 43-Plus My Lais of the South Korean Mercenaries	321
5.1.5 Phoenix: A Case Study of Indiscriminate "Selective" Terror	322
5.1.6 The Last Years of the Thieu Regime	328
5.2 Nefarious and Mythical Bloodbaths	337
5.2.1 Revolutionary Terror in Theory and Practice	337
5.2.2 Land Reform in the Mid-Fifties	341
5.2.3 The Hue Massacre of 1968	345
Appendix: Indochina—Quang Ngai Province Five Months After the Peace Agreement: Arrests, Tortures, Artillery Fire Continues as Before the Ceasefire	355
Footnotes	361
Index	435