

Acknowledgments ix

PART I: DIVIDED BY RACE

- 1 Race and Democratic Aspirations in America 3
- 2 The Racial Divide in Public Opinion 12
- 3 No Single Sovereign Theory Will Do: Multiple Interpretations of Public Opinion on Race 35

PART II: PRIMARY INGREDIENTS OF OPINION

- 4 Threat and Advantage 49
- 5 Subtle Prejudice for Modern Times 92
- 6 Matters of Principle 128

PART III: FRAMES AND CAMPAIGNS

- 7 Framing the Issue: Elite Discourse and Public Understanding 163
- 8 The Electoral Temptations of Race 196
- 9 Benign Neglect and Racial Codewords in the 1988 Presidential Campaign 229

PART IV: IMPLICATIONS AND CONCLUSIONS

- 10 Racial Politics and Democratic Ideals 261

APPENDIX A: More on the Meaning and Measurement of Prejudice 291

APPENDIX B: Specifications and Results 295

Notes 305

References 357

Index 385