

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
Translator's Note	viii
Translator's Introduction	x
Preface	xxii
Introduction	1
Part I An Alternative Tradition in Modern Social Theory: Hegel's Original Idea	3
1 The Struggle for Self-preservation: On the Foundation of Modern Social Philosophy	7
2 Crime and Ethical Life: Hegel's Intersubjectivist Innovation	11
3 The Struggle for Recognition: On the Social Theory in Hegel's Jena Realphilosophie	31
Part II A Systematic Renewal: The Structure of Social Relations of Recognition	65
4 Recognition and Socialization: Mead's Naturalistic Transformation of Hegel's Idea	71
5 Patterns of Intersubjective Recognition: Love, Rights, and Solidarity	92
6 Personal Identity and Disrespect: The Violation of the Body, the Denial of Rights, and the Denigration of Ways of Life	131

Part III Social-philosophical Perspectives: Morality and Societal Development	141
7 Traces of a Tradition in Social Philosophy: Marx, Sorel, Sartre	145
8 Disrespect and Resistance: The Moral Logic of Social Conflicts	160
9 Intersubjective Conditions for Personal Integrity: A Formal Conception of Ethical Life	171
Notes	180
Bibliography	200
Index	209