
FEMINIST CHALLENGES

Social and Political Theory

Edited by

Carole Pateman and Elizabeth Gross

The Northeastern Series in Feminist Theory

Northeastern University Press

BOSTON

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
Contributors	viii
1 Introduction: The theoretical subversiveness of feminism Carole Pateman	1
Part I THE CHALLENGE TO THEORY
2 Feminism, philosophy and riddles without answers Maira Gatens	13
3 Vanishing acts in social and political thought: Tricks of the trade Beverly Thiele	30
4 Ethics revisited: Women and/in philosophy Rosi Braidotti	44
Part II THE CHALLENGE TO LIBERALISM
5 Selfhood, war and masculinity Genevieve Lloyd	63
6 Sex equality is not enough for feminism Merle Thornton	77
7 Women and political rationality Janna Thompson	99
8 Desire, consent and liberal theory Lenore Coltheart	112

CONTENTS

Part III THE CHALLENGE TO ACADEMIA

9	Philosophy, subjectivity and the body: Kristeva and Irigaray Elizabeth Gross	125
10	Simone de Beauvoir: Philosophy and/or the female body Catriona Mackenzie	144
11	Women, domestic life and sociology Anna Yeatman	157
12	Evidence and silence: Feminism and the limits of history Judith Allen	173
13	Conclusion: What is feminist theory? Elizabeth Gross	190
	Bibliography	205