

Population and Reproductive Rights: Feminist Perspectives from the South

Sonia Corrêa

in collaboration with
Rebecca Reichmann

Zed Books Ltd
LONDON & NEW JERSEY

Kali for Women
NEW DELHI

In association with
DAWN

Contents

Participants at DAWN regional meetings on reproductive rights/population	viii
Preface	x
Abbreviations and acronyms	xiii
Introduction: the population and development debate – moments of conflict, moments of clarity	I
1 Fertility management policies: past, present and challenges for the future	10
Retracing history	10
Today's policies: overlapping systems	14
State-led interventions	14
The international family planning system	16
Contraceptive markets: invisible hands at work	20
Trends in today's policies: costs to women	24
Fully established state-led policies	25
'Incomplete policies'	31
Combined policies: Brazil, Colombia and Korea	37
Pro-natalism	40
Reshaping policies: political challenges	46
2 Sexual and reproductive health and rights: the southern feminist approach	56
Evolution of the framework	57
The United Nations women's decade	57
UN population conferences	59
The reproductive health and rights movement	61
Reproductive health: the emperor's new clothes?	62
Common ground: reproductive health and development	64
The indivisibility of health and rights	66

Abortion: a rights and health issue	68
HIV/AIDS: a rights and health issue	73
Challenges to the implementation of the reproductive health and rights framework	76
Cultural biases and practices	77
Challenges posed by state systems	84
Challenges of the marketplace	87
3 Forward-looking strategies: beyond Cairo	98
Strengthening the international women's movement	99
Culture and society: challenges ahead	104
States accountability: challenges ahead	106
National legal strategies	106
International legal strategies	108
The marketplace: challenges ahead	108
Bibliography	113
Index	131