

Contents

Acknowledgment	11
Prologue	13
Introduction	15
Problem	17
Purpose	18
Feminist Method	18
The Research Field	26
Material	33
Outline	35

I: FEMINIST ECONOMICS

CHAPTER 1: Market Economics and Feminist Economics	41
Market Economics	42
Demand and Supply	46
Scarcity	47
“Economic man”	49
Marginal Analysis	51
Exogenous Facts, Externalities and Collective Goods	51
Advanced Models	52
Emergence of Feminist Economics	53
Sex and Gender in Feminist Economics	53
Feminists Define Economics	55
Critique of the Economic Paradigm: Form and Content	56
The Informal Economic Sector	57
The Family	59
Conclusion	61
CHAPTER 2: Feminist Critique of Flawed Objectivity and Empiricism in Economic Theory	63
Gender in Feminist Economics	63

Julie A. Nelson's Gender Value Compass	65
Empiricism and Feminist Economics	66
Gender and Empiricism	68
Objectivity	70
Objectivity and Gender in Economic Scholarship	72
Power	75
Basic Human Needs in Feminist Economics	77
Conclusion	78

CHAPTER 3: Equality, Rights, Power and Basic Human Needs in Feminist Development Economics	80
Feminist Economists Deal with Equality	81
Women's Rights in Theory and Practice	84
Reflections on Equality and Rights	87
Power	89
Basic Human Needs in Feminist Economics	92
Conclusion	93

II: FEMINIST ETHICS

CHAPTER 4: Feminist Liberation Theology Ethics: the Origins	101
Pedagogy of the Oppressed	102
Radical Social Change	104
Change in Theory and Method	106
Hermeneutics in Liberation Theology	108
Focus on the Oppressed	110
No Gender Analysis	112
Eclectic Feminism	113
Conclusion	113

CHAPTER 5: Feminist Ethics, Liberation Theology and Economics	116
A Feminist Ethicist Mentor	117
Liberal Theology and Empiricism	117
Harrison on Niebuhr	118
Learning from Social Sciences	123
Critical Theory and Radical Social Theory	125
Harrison on Ethics in Economics	128
Kinds of Love	132
What is Justice ?	134
Conclusion	135

CHAPTER 6: A Feminist Hermeneutics of Justice	138
Aiming for Justice	138

A Narrative Foundation of Justice	140
Feminist Theory about Oppression	143
Image of Justice	144
Why a Feminist Hermeneutics of Justice?	145
What is Justice ?	147
A Global Dialogue	148
Conclusion	150

III: FEMINIST ETHICS AND FEMINIST ECONOMICS

CHAPTER 7: Basic Human Needs: a Criterion for Justice	155
What are Basic Human Needs?	156
Global Community, Needs and Economics	159
Different Views on Human Needs	161
Justification for a Common Code of Needs	163
A Criterion for Justice	165
Measures of National Wealth and Welfare	169
Women in Poverty	172
Conclusion	174
CHAPTER 8: Towards a Feminist Theory of Justice for Economics	176
Justice and Rights.	178
Justice as Right Relations.	180
Equal Value of Persons as a Foundation for Equality	183
Equality Before the Law	185
Equal Opportunity	186
Equal Pay for Equal Work	187
Justice as Liberation from Oppression	189
Feminist Liberation Ethics	190
Basic Human Needs as a Criterion for Justice	192
Feminist Justice Hermeneutics.	192
Conclusion	195
Bibliography	198
Personal Name Index	209