

CONTENTS

- Introduction: Feminist Philosophy in German
Herta Nagl-Docekal and Cornelia Klinger
(translated by James Dodd) 1
- 1 Femininity and Critique of Reason in the French Enlightenment
Lieselotte Steinbrügge
(translated by Stephanie Morgenstern) 31
- 2 Julie, or the Feminine Difference: A New Reading of Rousseau's
Nouvelle Héloïse
Christine Garbe
(translated by Melanie Richter-Bernburg) 45
- 3 Philosophy of History as a Theory of Gender Difference: The Case of Rousseau
Herta Nagl-Docekal
(translated by Sabrina Völz) 77
- 4 Schopenhauer or Kant: Gender Difference Between Critique and Spirit of the Age
Ursula Pia Jauch
(translated by James Dodd) 101

5	The Female as Ethical Resource in the Philosophy of Hegel Heidmarie Bennent-Vable (translated by Christine M. Manteghi)	113
6	Woman—Landscape—Artwork: Alternative Realms or Patriarchal Reserves? Cornelia Klinger (translated by James Dodd)	147
7	Is a Feminist Critique of Logic Possible? Käthe Trettin (translated by George Matthews)	175
8	Georg Simmel: Modernism and the Philosophy of the Sexes Ursula Menzer (translated by Melanie Richter-Bernburg)	201
9	Explicating the Image of Woman in Psychoanalytic Discourse: Sigmund Freud's Theory of Femininity Christa Rohde-Dachser (translated by Stephanie Morgenstern)	231
10	Fin-de-siècle Vienna: A Movement For or Against Womanhood? Some Thoughts on Weininger and Freud Ingvild Birkhan (translated by Christine Manteghi)	255
11	Woman: The Most Precious Loot in the "Triumph of Allegory": Gender Relations in Walter Benjamin's Passagen-Werk Astrid Deuber-Mankowsky (translated by Dana Hollander)	281
12	A Legacy of the Enlightenment: Imagination and the Reality of the "Maternal" in Max Horkheimer's Writings Mechthild Rumpf (translated by Melanie Richter-Bernburg)	303
13	Reason, Gender, and the Paradox of Rationalization Elisabeth List	321
	Contributors	339
	Index	343