

STUDIES ON MARX
AND HEGEL

Jean Hyppolite

translated, with an Introduction, Notes, and Bibliography, by

JOHN O'NEILL

Basic Books, Inc., Publishers · New York · London

CONTENTS

PREFACE		v
INTRODUCTION	Hegel and Marx on History as Human History by John O'Neill	xi
PART I The Concept of Life and Existence in Hegel
1.	The Concept of Life and Consciousness of Life in Hegel's Jena Philosophy	3
2.	The Concept of Existence in the Hegelian Phenomenology	22
PART II The Concept of History in Hegel
3.	The Significance of the French Revolution in Hegel's Phenomenology	35
4.	Alienation and Objectification: Commentary on G. Lukacs' The Young Hegel	70
PART III Marxism and Philosophy
5.	Marx and Philosophy	93
6.	Marx's Critique of the Hegelian Concept of the State	106
7.	On the Structure and Philosophical Presuppositions of Marx's Capital	126

PART IV The Problem of the Relation between Truth and Existence
8. The Human Situation in the Hegelian Phenomenology	153
9. On the Logic of Hegel	169
BIBLIOGRAPHY	187
INDEX	195