
History and Subjectivity

The Transformation of Marxist Theory

ROGER S. GOTTLIEB

Temple University Press
Philadelphia

Contents

Preface xi
Acknowledgments xvii

PART I: MARXISM AND THE THREE FORMS OF SOCIAL PRIMACY 1

- 1 The Essential Thesis of Historical Materialism 3
Marx's Theory 3
Economic Structure and Economic System, Lawlike and Non-
Lawlike 6
Criticisms of Historical Materialism 11
- 2 History, Subjectivity, and Social Primacy 14
Social Life as Subjective and Historical 16
Marxism and the Three Forms of Social Primacy 24

PART II: THE UNIQUENESS OF COMPETITIVE CAPITALISM 39

- 3 Feudalism and Historical Materialism: A Critique and a Synthesis 41
Marxism and Feudalism 41
Class Struggle: Dobb, Hilton, Brenner, and Bois 44
Perry Anderson: The Fusion of the Economic and the Political 49
Immanuel Wallerstein: The World-System 50
- 4 The Emergence of Competitive Capitalism 56
Free Labor, Captive Workers 56
The Unit of Production and the Social Setting 60

- 5 Politicized Capitalism and Marxist Economic Theory 68
 Politicized Capitalism: From Business Cycles to the Managed Economy 68
 Politicized Capitalism: Imperialism 72
 The Politicized Economy and Marxist Theory 74
- PART III: THE SOCIAL PRIMACY OF SOCIALIZATION PROCESSES: WESTERN MARXISM, SOCIALIST-FEMINISM, AND THE DOMINATED SELF 81
- 6 From Historical Laws to History and Subjectivity 83
- 7 The Historical Motivation of Western Marxism 87
 Social Democracy 89
 Leninism, the Bolshevik Revolution, and the Comintern 91
- 8 The Contributions and Dilemmas of Western Marxism 96
 Karl Korsch: Economic Structure and Social Consciousness 97
 Science as Ideology: Marxist Theory as Authority 100
 Class Consciousness and Masculine Ideology 107
 Wilhelm Reich 119
- 9 Socialist-Feminism 124
 Socialist-Feminism and Radical Feminism 125
 Problems with Engels 126
 The Sex/Gender System 128
 The Family 129
 Public Patriarchy and Sex-Affective Production 134
 Gender, Historical Change, and Social Primacy 139
 Political Change and Critical Theory 148
- 10 Socialization and Political Power: The Dominated Self 153
 Legitimation and Selfhood 153
 The Dominated Self 154
 Criticisms and Responses 160

- PART IV: THE SOCIAL PRIMACY OF POLITICS: THE STATE, SOCIAL DIFFERENTIATION, AND THE AMERICAN LEFT 165
- 11 Political Power as Structure and Strategy 167
 Political Authority: The State as Structure 168
 The Scope of Social Authority 174
 Strategy and Class Struggle 176
- 12 Social Differentiation and Blacks in the United States 183
 Blacks under U.S. Capitalism 185
 Capitalism and Racism 187
 Race and Social Primacy 193
 Social Differentiation and Black Politics 197
 Multiple Social Differentiation 202
- 13 Jewish National Identity, the Left, and Zionism 204
 Left-Wing Anti-Semitism 204
 Zionism 208
 The Politics of Social Differentiation 210
- 14 The Dilemmas of Leftist Social Differentiation 214
- 15 The Socialist Party: Fragments of a Class 220
 The Mode of Production and Socialization Processes 220
 Social Differentiation and the Socialist Party 223
 Moments of Unity 229
 Ruling Class Reform and Repression 232
 The Role of Leftist Social Differentiation 233
- 16 The Communist Party and the CIO: History and Subjectivity in the 1930s 236
 The Economic Context 237
 Socialization and Authority 239
 Consciousness and the Depression 240
 The Communist Party in the 1930s 243

	The Social Differentiation of the Communist Party	245
	The Limits of Radicalism: The Need for Leadership	249
	Authority and the State	255
17	The New Left: A Political Memory	258
	Three Moments	258
	Origins	261
	Reflection	262
	Notes	265
	References	289
	Index	311