
CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction	1
PART I. JOHN RAWLS'S IMPARTIALISM
1. The Isolation of the Political	13
Social Justice and Impartiality
Political Constructivism and the Idea of an
Overlapping Consensus
Justice as Political and the Charge of Atomism
Neutrality and Its Limits
Citizenship and the Public Sphere
2. The Feminist Challenge	35
The Original Position and the Danger of Marginalization
Justice in the Family
Gender Blindness in Rawls's Theory
Justice, Care, and Solidarity
Impartiality and Difference
PART II. MICHAEL WALZER'S CONTEXTUALISM
3. Hermeneutics and Justice	59
Complex Equality
Justice without Procedures
Interpretation and Connected Criticism
Rival Interpretations
The Dialogue of Justice
4. The Limits of Walzer's Immanent Critique	81
Social Power, Moral Universalism, and the
Impartialist Project
Immanent Critique and Ideology

Hermeneutics and Critical Theory
Extending the Universalist Moral Code
Avoiding Partiality

PART III. JÜRGEN HABERMAS'S DISCOURSE ETHICS

5. The Priority of Communicative Action 107
The Theoretical Roots of Discourse Ethics
Philosophy and Rational Reconstruction
Communicative and Strategic Action
Illocutions, Perlocutions, and Communicative
Action's Priority
The Reproduction of the Lifeworld and
Critical Social Theory
6. Discourse and Impartiality 129
Discourse as Reflective Communicative Action
Idealization and Rationality
Arguing against Scepticism
The Advantages of Dialogical Impartiality

PART IV. IMPARTIALITY IN CONTEXT

7. Morality and Ethical Life 153
Habermas and the Contextualist Challenge
The Scope of the Moral Domain
Hermeneutics and Discourse
Ethical Discourse and Cultural Differences
An Impartialist Politics of Recognition
8. The Case of Northern Ireland 181
Justice and Pluralism in Northern Ireland
Toward a Constitutional Patriotism
Discursive Legitimation and Northern Ireland's Constitution
- Conclusion 201
- Notes 205
- Bibliography 261
- Index 279