

FEAR AND TREMBLING
AND
THE SICKNESS UNTO DEATH

BY SØREN KIERKEGAARD

Translated with Introductions and Notes by

WALTER LOWRIE

Doubleday Anchor Books

CONTENTS

5 Translator's Note

FEAR AND TREMBLING

9 Translator's Introduction

21 Fear and Trembling

22 Preface

26 Prelude

30 A Panegyric upon Abraham

38 Problemata:

38 Preliminary Expectoration

64 Problem I

78 Problem II

91 Problem III

129 Epilogue

THE SICKNESS UNTO DEATH

133 Translator's Introduction

141 The Sickness unto Death

142 Preface

144 Introduction

PART FIRST • THE SICKNESS UNTO DEATH IS DESPAIR

146 I. That Despair is This Sickness

146 A. Despair is a Sickness in the Spirit, in the Self, and So It May Assume a Triple Form: in Despair at Not Being Conscious of Having a Self (Despair Im- properly So Called); in Despair at Not Willing to Be Oneself; in Despair at Willing to Be Oneself

147 B. Possibility and Actuality of Despair

150 C. Despair is "the Sickness unto Death"

155 II. The Universality of This Sickness (Despair)

162 III. The Forms of This Sickness, i.e. of Despair

Contents

- 02 A. Despair regarded in such a way that one does not reflect whether it is conscious or not, so that one reflects only upon the factors of the synthesis
- 02 (a) Despair viewed under the aspects of Finitude/Infinitude
- 03 (1) The Despair of Infinitude is due to the lack of Finitude
- 06 (2) The Despair of Finitude is due to the lack of Infinitude
- 08 (b) Despair viewed under the aspects of Possibility/Necessity
- 08 (1) The Despair of Possibility is due to the lack of Necessity
- 70 (2) The Despair of Necessity is due to the lack of Possibility
- 75 B. Despair viewed under the Aspect of Consciousness
- 75 (a) Despair which is Unconscious that it is Despair, or the Despairing Unconsciousness of having a Self and an Eternal Self
- 80 (b) The Despair which is Conscious of being Despair, as also it is Conscious of being a Self wherein there is after all something Eternal, and then is in despair at not willing to be itself, or in despair at willing to be itself
- 82 (1) In despair at not willing to be oneself, the despair of weakness
- 84 (i) Despair over the earthly or over something earthly
- 84 (ii) Despair about the eternal or over oneself
- 0 (2) The despair of willing despairingly to be oneself—defiance

PART SECOND • DESPAIR IS SIN

- 208 I. Despair is Sin
- 210 1. Gradations in the consciousness of the Self (the Qualification "Before God")
- 214 Appendix. That the Definition of Sin contains the Possibility of the Offense; a general observation about Offense
- 218 2. The Socratic Definition of Sin
- 227 3. Sin is not a Negation but a Position
- 231 Appendix to I. But then in a certain sense does not sin become a great rarity? (The Moral)
- 236 II. Continuation of Sin
- 240 1. The Sin of Despairing over one's Sin
- 244 2. The Sin of Despairing of the Forgiveness of Sins (Offense)
- 255 3. The Sin of Abandoning Christianity modo ponendo, of declaring it falsehood
- 263 Translator's Notes to Fear and Trembling
- 272 Translator's Notes to The Sickness unto Death