

CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION	I
CHAPTER 1	14
1. Austin's distinctions	15
2. Austin's distinctions revisited	19
(i) Illocutions and perlocutions	20
(ii) Locutionary acts and truth values	22
(iii) Austin's sense and reference	23
CHAPTER 2	25
1. Meaning and Use	25
2. Independent specifications of use	26
3. Determinate and non-determinate utterances	28
CHAPTER 3	33
1. Different, or related, descriptions of the same thing?	33
2. Searle's main theses	34
3. Searle contra Austin	38
4. The route from speech acts to meaning	41
5. The scope of Searle's account	43
6. Retrospect	44
CHAPTER 4	45
1. The performative analysis of indicatives	46
2. Ross's arguments	47
3. Other arguments for the performative analysis	50
4. The weak thesis	53
5. The strong thesis	59
6. Weak or strong?	67

CHAPTER 5	69
1. Alleged differences between indicatives and imperatives	69
2. Expressing the will of the speaker	70
3. Some alternatives	74
4. Phrastics and neustics	79
(i) Hare's theses	79
(ii) Phrastics	81
(iii) What do connectives connect?	85
(iv) Some counterexamples	87
(v) Conditional commands	92
 CHAPTER 6	 97
1. Doing what is required	97
2. Truth and conformity	100
3. Interrogatives	102
4. What is special about interrogatives?	106
5. The isomorphism thesis	109
6. A disputed inference	111
 CHAPTER 7	 117
1. Subjunctives and truth conditions	117
2. Commissives	119
3. Seriousness and literalness	122
 CHAPTER 8	 127
1. Some grammar	128
2. Illocutionary acts and intentions	131
3. Schiffer's theory of illocutionary acts	137
4. Illocutionary force	143
(i) Mutual knowledge	143
(ii) A proposal	148
(iii) Extending the proposal	154

CONTENTS

xi

5. Illocutionary acts	155
(i) Relevant circumstances	157
(ii) Why relevant circumstances are relevant	162

WORKS CITED	171
-------------	-----

INDEX	177
-------	-----