

CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION TO JOHN DEWEY'S PHILOSOPHY, By Joseph Ratner	3
I. THE MEANINGS OF PHILOSOPHY
1. Philosophy and Culture	245
2. Philosophy and the Education of Man	255
3. The Critical Function of Philosophy	260
II. THE GREAT PHILOSOPHIC SEPARATION
1. The Quest for Certainty	275
2. The Historic Mission of Philosophy	291
III. PHILOSOPHY AND SCIENCE
1. The Modern Crisis	305
2. Ancient and Modern Science Con- trasted	311
3. Philosophic Implications of Modern Science	325
IV. SCIENCE AND THE FUTURE OF SOCIETY	343
V. THE MODES OF SOCIETAL LIFE
1. The Private and the Public	365
2. Government and State	370
3. State and Society	381
4. Communication and Communal Living	385
5. The Democratic Form	400

VI. THE INDIVIDUAL IN THE NEW SOCIETY
1. The Individual in the Cultural Crisis	405
2. The Economic Basis of the New Society	416
VII. INTELLIGENCE IN SOCIAL ACTION
1. Classes, Groups and Masses	435
2. The Class Struggle	441
3. The Meaning and Office of Liberalism	449
4. Socializing Intelligence	455
VIII. NATIONALISM AND INTERNATIONALISM
1. Nationalism and Its Fruits	467
2. Ethics and International Relations	474
3. Force, Violence and Law	486
IX. INTERNATIONAL LAW AND THE SECURITY OF NATIONS
1. On International Coöperation	499
2. On America's Responsibility	503
3. Preconditions of the Security of Nations	508
4. International Law and the War-System	511
5. Editor's Note	525
6. Sanctions and the Security of Nations	566
X. FUNDAMENTALS OF THE EDUCATIONAL PROCESS
1. The Art of Education	605
2. Learning and Doing	607
3. The Training of Thinking	614
4. Individuality and Freedom	619
5. The Continuity of the Educational Process	627

CONTENTS

xiii

XI. SCIENCE AND PHILOSOPHY OF EDUCATION

1. Education as a Science 631
2. Sources of a Science of Education 640
3. Traditional vs. Progressive Education 654
4. Philosophy of Experience 662
5. The Organization of Study 674
6. Means and End of Education 681

XII. THE SCHOOLS AND THE SOCIAL WELFARE

1. The Schools in the Social Order 683
2. Education and Social Change 691
3. Educators and the Class Struggle 696
4. The Schools and Religions 702
5. Democracy in the Schools 716
6. Academic Freedom 721
7. Education and American Culture 725

XIII. THE PSYCHOLOGY OF CONDUCT

1. Habits and Will 729
2. Impulses and Instincts 736
3. Intelligence 751

XIV. INTELLIGENCE IN MORALS

1. Individual and Social Morality 761
2. Reflection in the Moral Situation 766
3. Experimentalism in Moral Theory 775
4. Endings in Nature and Ends for Man 778
5. The Satisfying and the Valuable 783

XV. PERCEPTION, LANGUAGE AND MIND

1. Theory of Perception 795
2. Physical, Psychophysical and Mental 801
3. Language and Mind 807

4. Mind and Consciousness	811
5. The Unity of the Human Being	817
XVI. THINKING AND MEANING
1. The Natural History of Thinking	837
2. The Pattern of Reflective Thinking	851
3. The Development of Meanings	857
4. Systems of Meanings and Symbols	867
XVII. PRINCIPLES OF LOGIC
1. The Genesis of Logical Forms	885
2. Explanation of Situation	891
3. Judgment and Proposition	897
4. Interpretation of the Syllogism	902
5. Induction and Deduction	913
XVIII. KNOWLEDGE, SCIENCE AND TRUTH
1. Meanings: Valid and Invalid	925
2. Knowledge as Instrumental and Hypothetical	929
3. Experimental Verification and Truth	937
4. Pure and Applied Science	945
5. Social Science and Social Control	949
XIX. THE ARTISTIC-ESTHETIC IN EXPERIENCE
1. The Roots of Esthetic Experience	955
2. The Experience of Esthetic Quality	962
3. The Work of Art and Esthetic Perception	971
4. Substance and Form	980
5. Art, Philosophy and Morals	993
XX. THE RELIGIOUS IN EXPERIENCE	1003
XXI. COMPREHENSIVE WORKING IDEAS
1. Continuities in Nature	1039

CONTENTS

xv

2. The Methods of Philosophy	1044
3. Precarious and Stable Events	1047
4. Process and Structure	1052
5. Causes and Effects (Means and Ends)	1055
6. The Social	1059

INDEX

1071