

Contents

Acknowledgements	xi
Preface	xiii
Prologue: Genesis for the third millennium	1

PART I: THE SPIRITUAL QUEST IN THE NEW WORLD OF SCIENCE

1	The contemporary challenge of science to religious beliefs	5
	The 'two cultures' and the dominance of science	5
	The spiritual life of scientists	6
	The rise of science	9
	The forging of Christian belief through past challenges	12
	The challenge of the scientific culture to religion today	15
2	Science and the future of theology	18
	The intellectual reputations of science and theology	18
	Science withstands the postmodernist critique	22
	Evolution and human rationality	24
	Reasonableness through inference to the best explanation	26
	Theology at the crossroads	30

PART II: EXPLORING FROM SCIENCE TOWARDS GOD: NEW VISTAS, CHALLENGES AND QUESTIONS
3	The world as it is 39
	That the world is 39
	God and time 43
	The world: one and many 48
	Whole-part influences in the world 51
	The flow of information in the world 53
	The world-as-a-whole: a System-of-systems 54
	A lawlike world – no intervention 56
	A world containing inherently unpredictable events 58
	Brains, minds and persons in the world 59
	Communication between persons in the world 62
4	The world in process 65
	The epic of evolution 65
	The physical origin of the universe 67
	The origin of life 68
	The anthropic principle 70
	The duration of evolution 72
	The mechanism of biological evolution – natural selection 73
	The process of chance and law (necessity) 75
	The emergence of humanity 78
	Human behaviour 79
	Trends and directions in evolution? 81
	The ubiquity of pain, suffering and death 83
	The evolution of life and our exploration towards God 84
	Evolution: a risky process? 88
5	God's interaction with the world 91
	The problem 91
	Predictability and causality 95
	'Chaotic' systems and divine action 99
	Quantum events and divine action 104

Whole-part influence and God's interaction with the world	108
God as 'personal agent' in the world	114
6 The sound of sheer silence	116
God, human experience and revelation	117
How does God communicate with humanity?	121
PART III: THE END OF ALL OUR EXPLORING
7 An open theology	129
8 'In him we live and move and have our being'	135
Immanence: a theistic naturalism	135
Panentheism	138
9 The world as sacrament	144
The instrumental and symbolic relation of God and humanity to the world	144
The world as an instrument of God's purposes	145
The world as a symbol of God's purposes	146
A congruence between the scientific and sacramental perspectives	148
10 Arriving where we started	154
The Wisdom of God	154
The Word, the Logos , of God	158
The uncreated energies of God	160
11 Knowing the place for the first time	163
Vistas of the end?	163
A global perspective	168
Epilogue	172
Appendix: A contemporary Christian understanding of sacrament	175

Notes	177
Glossary	185
Supplementary reading	188
Index	193