

CONTENTS

Introduction	page xi
I GOD AND NATURE	I
A. The Greek View	I
a. The Pre-Socratics	I
b. Plato	3
c. Aristotle	5
d. The Stoics	6
e. Galen	6
f. The Middle Ages	7
B. The Biblical View	7
C. Father, Maker and Creator of the World	9
D. The Mechanistic World Picture	13
E. The Mechanist's Critique of the Organismic World View	16
a. Basso	16
b. Boyle	17
F. The Radical Critique of Naturalism	19
a. Malebranche	20
b. Berkeley	22
c. Retrospect	25
II. REASON AND EXPERIENCE	29
A. Rationalism and Empiricism in Antiquity and the Middle Ages	29
a. Rationalism and Empiricism	29
b. The Rationalism of the Greek Philosophers	30
c. Scholastic Rationalism and its Mediaeval Critics	31
d. Nominalist Empiricism	32
B. Empiricism and Rationalism in the Beginning of the Seventeenth Century	35
a. Mathematical Empiricism of Galileo and Kepler	35
b. Natural-Historical Empiricism	36

Contents

c. Francis Bacon's Natural-Historical Empiricism	39
C. Cartesianism	41
a. Descartes' Theological Voluntarism	41
b. Descartes' Rationalism in Science	42
D. Empiricist Opposition to Descartes	44
a. Pascal	44
b. Boyle	46
c. Newton	49
d. Retrospect	51
III NATURE AND ART	54
A. The Contrast between Art and Nature	54
a. Techne incapable of equalling Physis	54
b. The Illegitimacy of competing with Nature	56
c. The Influence of the Separation of Art and Nature on Mechanics and Chemistry	56
d. Paracelsus	59
e. Art surpassing Nature	60
B. The Abolition of the Contrast between Art and Nature	61
a. The Transition from the Organistic to the Mechanistic World Picture	61
b. Bacon's Advocacy of the Power of Art	62
c. The Artificial Synthesis of Natural Compounds	65
d. Mechanism and Technology	66
C. The Dominion of Man over Nature	67
a. The Religious Vindication of the Right and the Duty to dominate Nature	67
b. Scientific Research as a Duty of Charity	69
c. Romantic Disapproval of Francis Bacon	72
IV THE RISE OF EXPERIMENTAL SCIENCE	75
A. The Evaluation of Manual Work and Experimentation in Antiquity	76
a. Manual Trades in Antiquity	76
b. Applied Science in Antiquity	78

Contents

c. The Engineers in Antiquity	80
d. Experimentation in Antiquity	82
B. The Judaeo-Christian Evaluation of Manual Work	83
a. Manual Trades in the Bible	83
b. Manual Trades and Experimentation in the Christian World	85
C. The Co-operation of Head and Hand in Early Modern Science	88
a. Mechanical and Liberal Arts in the Sixteenth Century	88
b. The Religious Sanction of Manual and Experimental Work	92
c. The Puritan Attitude to Experimental Science	94
 V SCIENCE AND THE REFORMATION	 98
A. The Influence of the Reformation on Science	98
a. The Protestants' Share in Scientific Research	98
b. Intramundane Asceticism and Scientific Activity	101
c. 'To the Glory of God'	105
d. Predestination and Determinism	107
e. The General Priesthood of Believers	109
B. Science and Biblical Exegesis	114
a. The Bible as a Source for Science	114
b. Calvin on Science and Scripture	117
c. Influence of Calvin's Accommodation Theory	122
d. Galileo on Scripture and the Motion of the Earth	124
e. John Wilkins on Bible and Science	126
f. Copernicanism and anti-Copernicanism amongst the Reformed	130
C. Puritanism and Science	135
a. The Character of Puritanism	135
b. Puritan Baconianism	139
c. An 'Age of Light'	141
d. Enthusiasm and Learning	144
 Epilogue	 161