

OXFORD READERS

---

Political Thought

Edited by Michael Rosen and Jonathan Wolff with the assistance of Catriona McKinnon

OXFORD
UNIVERSITY PRESS

---

Contents

---

|              |   |
|--------------|---|
| Introduction | 3 |
|--------------|---|

I. Human Nature

|              |  |
|--------------|--|
| Introduction |  |
|--------------|--|

|  |    |
|--|----|
| I.a. The Natural State of Mankind                         | 10 |
| 1. ARISTOTLE, The State Exists by Nature                         | 10 |
| 2. THOMAS HOBBES, The Misery of the Natural Condition of Mankind | 11 |
| 3. JOHN LOCKE, The State of Nature and the State of War          | 14 |
| 4. BARON DE MONTESQUIEU, Fear and Peace                          | 18 |
| 5. JEAN-JACQUES ROUSSEAU, The Noble Savage                       | 20 |
| 6. ROBERT OWEN, Man's Character is Formed for Him                | 23 |
| 7. KARL MARX AND FRIEDRICH ENGELS, Man as a Productive Being     | 26 |
| 8. CHARLES DARWIN, Natural Selection                             | 28 |
| 9. CHARLES DARWIN, The Advantage of Morality                     | 30 |
| 10. PETER KROPOTKIN, Mutual Aid                                  | 30 |

|   |    |
|---|----|
| I.b. Man's Nature and Woman's Nature | 34 |
|---|----|

|   |    |
|---|----|
| 11. PLATO, Women as Weaker Partners                                     | 34 |
| 12. ARISTOTLE, Separate Spheres   | 36 |
| 13. JEAN-JACQUES ROUSSEAU, The Likeness and Unlikeness ofthe Sexes  | 37 |
| 14. MARY WOLLSTONECRAFT, The Rights of Women                            | 39 |
| 15. JOHN STUART MILL, The Subjection of Women                           | 40 |
| 16. CAROL GILLIGAN, In a Different Voice                                | 44 |
| 17. ALISON M. JAGGAR, Socialist Feminism and the Standpoint ofWomen | 49 |

II. The Justification of the State

|                                       |    |
|---------------------------------------|----|
| Introduction                          | 52 |
| II.a. What is the State?       | 54 |
| 18. JOHN LOCKE, Political Power       | 54 |
| 19. MAX WEBER, The State and Coercion | 54 |

x CONTENTS

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| II.b. The Social Contract  | 56  |
| 20. THOMAS HOBBES, Creating Leviathan                                     | 56  |
| 21. JOHN LOCKE, Express and Tacit Consent                                 | 59  |
| 22. JEAN-JACQUES ROUSSEAU, Natural Freedom and the Freedom of the Citizen | 62  |
| 23. IMMANUEL KANT, The Hypothetical Contract                              | 64  |
| II.c. Against the Social Contract                                  | 66  |
| 24. DAVID HUME, The Irrelevance of Consent                                | 66  |
| 25. JEREMY BENTHAM, Utility as the True Foundation                        | 69  |
| 26. G. W. F HEGEL, The Priority of the State over the Individual          | 70  |
| 27. H. L. A. HART, The Principle of Fairness                              | 71  |
| II.d. The Anarchist Response                                       | 73  |
| 28. MICHAEL BAKUNIN, Science and the People                               | 73  |
| 29. ROBERT PAUL WOLFF, The Conflict of Autonomy and Authority             | 76  |
| II.e. Civil Disobedience   | 78  |
| 30. PLATO, The Duty of Obedience  | 78  |
| 31. HENRY DAVID THOREAU, The Duty of Disobedience                         | 81  |
| 32. MARTIN LUTHER KING, An Unjust Law is No Law                           | 83  |
| 33. JOHN RAWLS, Civil Disobedience  | 85  |
| III. Democracy and Its Difficulties                                |     |
| Introduction  | 89  |
| III.a. Against Democracy   | 91  |
| 34. PLATO, Ruling as a Skill  | 91  |
| 35. FREDERICK THE GREAT, The Enlightened Despot                           | 94  |
| III.b. Democratic Ideals   | 96  |
| 36. JEAN-JACQUES ROUSSEAU, The General Will                               | 96  |
| 37. IMMANUEL KANT, Freedom and Equality                                   | 97  |
| 38. JOHN STUART MILL, The Democratic Citizen                              | 99  |
| 39. JOHN RAWLS, Majority Rule   | 100 |
| III.c. True and False Democracy                                    | 103 |
| 40. V. I. LENIN, Bourgeois and Proletarian Democracy                      | 103 |
| 41. CAROLE PATEMAN, Participatory Democracy                               | 104 |

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| III.d. Dangers in Democracy  | 106 |
| 42. ARISTOTLE, Rule of the People and Rule of Law                                 | 106 |
| 43. JAMES MADISON, The Danger of Faction  | 107 |
| 44. ALEXIS DE TOCQUEVILLE, Tyranny of the Majority                                | 109 |
| III.e. Democracy and Bureaucracy   | 111 |
| 45. MAX WEBER, Bureaucratic Administration  | 111 |
| 46. VILFREDO PARETO, Rule by Oligarchy  | 113 |
| III.f. Separation of Powers  | 115 |
| 47. JOHN LOCKE, Legislative, Executive, and Federative Powers                     | 115 |
| 48. BARON DE MONTESQUIEU, The Ideal Constitution                                  | 117 |
| IV. Liberty and Rights   |     |
| Introduction  | 119 |
| IV.a. What is Liberty?   | 122 |
| 49. BENJAMIN CONSTANT, The Liberty of the Ancients and the Liberty of the Moderns | 122 |
| 50. ISAIAH BERLIN, Two Concepts of Liberty  | 124 |
| 51. CHARLES TAYLOR, In Defence of Positive Freedom                                | 128 |
| 52. RONALD DWORKIN, No Right to Liberty   | 130 |
| IV.b. Law and Morality   | 133 |
| 53. JOHN STUART MILL, One Simple Principle  | 133 |
| 54. JAMES FITZJAMES STEPHEN, The Consequences of Liberty                          | 134 |
| 55. PATRICK DEVLIN, The Enforcement of Morals                                     | 137 |
| 56. H. L. A. HART, The Changing Sense of Morality                                 | 140 |
| IV.c. Tolerant and Free Expression   | 142 |
| 57. JOHN LOCKE, The Futility of Intolerance                                       | 142 |
| 58. THOMAS SCANLON, Free Expression and the Authority of the State                | 145 |
| 59. JEREMY WALDRON, The Satanic Verses                                     | 148 |
| 60. CATHERINE MACKINNON, Only Words   | 151 |
| IV.d. Virtue and Citizenship   | 155 |
| 61. PERICLES, The Democratic Citizen  | 155 |
| 62. ARISTOTLE, The Requirements of Citizenship                                    | 156 |

xii CONTENTS

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| 63. NICCOLO MACHIAVELLI, The Servility of the Moderns          | 158 |
| 64. ALEXIS DE TOCQUEVILLE, The Nature of Modern Servitude      | 159 |
| 65. QUENTIN SKINNER, The Republican Ideal of Political Liberty | 161 |
| IV.e. Rights   |     |
| 66. JEREMY BENTHAM, Nonsense on Stilts                         | 172 |
| 67. KARL MARX, The Rights of Egoistic Man                      | 173 |
| 68. ROBERT NOZICK, Rights as Side-Constraints                  | 176 |
| 69. RONALD DWORKIN, Taking Rights Seriously                    | 179 |
| IV.f. Punishment   |     |
| 70. JOHN STUART MILL, In Favour of Capital Punishment          | 181 |
| 71. H. L. A. HART, Punishment and Responsibility               | 182 |
| 72. ROBERT NOZICK, Where Deterrence Theory Goes Wrong          | 184 |
| V. Economic Justice                                     |     |
| Introduction   | 187 |
| V.a. Private Property  |     |
| 73. JOHN LOCKE, Labour as the Basis of Property                | 190 |
| 74. JEAN-JACQUES ROUSSEAU, The Earth Belongs to Nobody         | 194 |
| 75. G. W. F. HEGEL, Property as Expression                     | 194 |
| 76. HERBERT SPENCER, The Right to the Use of the Earth         | 199 |
| 77. KARL MARX, Money, the Universal Whore                      | 202 |
| 78. KARL MARX, The True Foundation of Private Property         | 206 |
| 79. SIGMUND FREUD, Property and Aggression                     | 207 |
| 80. R. H. TAWNEY, Reaping without Sowing                       | 208 |
| 81. ROBERT NOZICK, Difficulties with Mixing Labour             | 210 |
| V.b. The Market  |     |
| 82. ADAM SMITH, The Dangers of Government Interference         | 214 |
| 83. KARL MARX, Appearance and Reality                          | 215 |
| 84. F. A. HAYEK, Prices as a Code                              | 216 |
| 85. MILTON FRIEDMAN and ROSE FRIEDMAN, The Tyranny of Controls | 218 |
| 86. G. A. COHEN, Poverty as Lack of Freedom                    | 222 |
| V.c. Theories of Distributive Justice                          |     |
| 87. AESOP, The Grasshopper and the Ants                        | 224 |
| 88. ARISTOTLE, Reciprocity                                     | 224 |
| 89. ARISTOTLE, Equality and Inequality                         | 226 |

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| 90. GERALD WINSTANLEY, The Common Stock  | 227 |
| 91. DAVID HUME, The Impossibility of Equality  | 229 |
| 92. KARL MARX, From Each According to His Abilities, To EachAccording to His Needs | 231 |
| 93. EDWARD BELLAMY, Looking Backward   | 233 |
| 94. F. A. HAYEK, The Impossibility of Planning   | 238 |
| 95. JOHN RAWLS, Two Principles of Justice  | 241 |
| 96. ROBERT NOZICK, The Entitlement Theory  | 245 |
| 97. RONALD DWORAKIN, Equality of Resources   | 248 |

VI. Justice between Groups

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| Introduction  | 256 |
| VI.a. Peace and War  | 257 |
| 98. IMMANUEL KANT, Perpetual Peace                                | 257 |
| 99. RICHARD COBDEN, The Civilizing Influence of Commerce          | 259 |
| 100. MICHAEL WALZER, Just and Unjust War                          | 260 |
| 101. THOMAS NAGEL, The Limits of Warfare                          | 263 |
| VI.b. Nationalism  | 267 |
| 102. ISAIAH BERLIN, National Sentiment                            | 267 |
| 103. ALASDAIR MACINTYRE, Is Patriotism a Virtue?                  | 269 |
| VI.c. Minority Rights                                      | 285 |
| 104. THOMAS HILL, The Message of Affirmative Action               | 285 |
| 105. AVISHAI MARGALIT and JOSEPH RAZ, National Self-Determination | 288 |
| VI.d. Intergenerational Justice                            | 292 |
| 106. BRIAN BARRY, Justice between Generations                     | 292 |
| VI.e. International Justice                                | 300 |
| 107. PETER SINGER, Famine, Affluence and Morality                 | 300 |
| 108. ONORA O'NEILL, Lifeboat Earth                                | 304 |

VII. Alternatives to Liberalism

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| Introduction   | 319 |
| VII.a. Liberal Theory under Strain            | 321 |
| 109. JÜRGEN HABERMAS, Legitimation Crisis            | 321 |
| 110. MICHAEL WALZER, Liberalism in Retreat           | 323 |
| III. MICHAEL WALZER, The Artificiality of Liberalism | 324 |

xiv CONTENTS

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| VII.b. Conservatism                                  | 326 |
| 112. EDMUND BURKE, Eternal Society                          | 326 |
| 113. T. S. ELIOT, The Transmission of Culture               | 328 |
| 114. MICHAEL OAKESHOTT, On Being Conservative               | 331 |
|   |     |
| VII.c. Communitarianism                              | 335 |
| 115. CHARLES TAYLOR, Identification and Subjectivity        | 335 |
| 116. ALASDAIR MACINTYRE, Tradition and the Unity of a Life  | 338 |
| 117. MICHAEL SANDEL, Conceptions of Community               | 342 |
|   |     |
| VII.d. Socialism                                     | 345 |
| 118. KARL MARX, Work in Communist Society                   | 345 |
| 119. KARL MARX, The Communist Manifesto                     | 345 |
| 120. KARL MARX, The Realm of Freedom                        | 348 |
| 121. OSCAR WILDE, The Soul of Man under Socialism           | 348 |
| 122. ERNEST MANDEL, Productive Activity                     | 351 |
| 123. G. A. COHEN, Socialism and Equality of Opportunity     | 354 |
|   |     |
| VII.e. Post-modernism                                | 359 |
| 124. FRIEDRICH NIETZSCHE, The Impulse towards Justice       | 359 |
| 125. MICHEL FOUCAULT, Power/Knowledge                       | 360 |
| 126. RICHARD RORTY, The Priority of Democracy to Philosophy | 362 |

VIII. Progress and Civilization

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| Introduction  | 366 |
| 127. JEAN-JACQUES ROUSSEAU, The Effect of the Arts and Sciences | 367 |
| 128. ADAM SMITH, Division of Labour                             | 369 |
| 129. FRIEDRICH SCHILLER, Fragmentation and Aesthetic Education  | 371 |
| 130. KARL MARX, Development of the Productive Forces            | 376 |
| 131. FYODOR DOSTOEVSKY, Our Self-Destructive Impulse            | 378 |
| 132. FRIEDRICH ENGELS, Transition to Communism                  | 380 |
| 133. MAX WEBER, Disenchantment                                  | 383 |
| 134. KARL POPPER, The Utopian Method                            | 385 |
| 135. FRANCIS FUKUYAMA, The End of History                       | 387 |

Appendix: Fundamental Political Documents

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| 136. US Declaration of Independence (1776)               | 391 |
| 137. Declaration of the Rights of Man and Citizen (1789) | 394 |
| 138. The Bill of Rights (1789)                           | 396 |

CONTENTS xv

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| 139. The Gettysburg Address (1863)                               | 397 |
| 140. United Nations Universal Declaration of Human Rights (1948) | 398 |
| Notes  | 403 |
| Select Bibliography  | 407 |
| Biographical Notes   | 407 |
| Source Acknowledgements  | 419 |
| Index  | 425 |