

After-affects | After-images

Trauma and aesthetic transformation
in the virtual feminist museum

Griselda Pollock

Manchester University Press

Contents

List of illustrations	page ix
Acknowledgements	xix
Preface	xxi
Introduction: trauma and artworking	1
Part I Sounds of subjectivity
1 Gasping at violence: Daphne's open mouth and the trauma of gender	37
2 Seduction, mourning and invocation: the geometry of absence in works by Louise Bourgeois	75
3 Being and language: Anna Maria Maiolino's gestures of exile and connection	131
Part II Memorial bodies
4 Traumatic encryption: the sculptural dissolutions of Alina Szapocznikow	165
5 Fictions of fact: memory in transit in Vera Frenkel's video installation works Transit Bar (1992) and Body Missing (1994)	223
Part III Passage through the object
6 Deadly objects and dangerous confessions: the tale of Sarah Kofman's father's pen	273
7 '... that, again!': pathos formula as transport station of trauma in the cinematic journey of Chantal Akerman	315
Conclusion	349
Bibliography	354
Index	369