

HUMANESIS

SOUND AND TECHNOLOGICAL POSTHUMANISM

DAVID CECCHETTO

posthumanities 26

University of Minnesota Press
Minneapolis
London

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	vii
Introduction: Posthumanism(s)	i
PART I
1. From Genes to Memes: Ollivier Dyens and the Scientific Posthumanism of Darwinian Evolution	21
2. Dark Matters: An Eidolic Collision of Sound and Vision	47
PART II
3. N. Katherine Hayles and Humanist Technological Posthumanism	63
4. The Trace : Melancholy and Posthuman Ethics	93
PART III
5. From Affect to Affectivity: Mark B. N. Hansen's Organismic Posthumanism	111
6. Skewed Remote Musical Performance: Sounding Deconstruction	145
Conclusion. Registration as Intervention: Performativity and Dominant Strains of Technological Posthumanism	159
Notes	167
Index	205