Concluding Remarks	26

1. Intension of 'Individuality'

What Individuality Is Not	27
Individuality and Indivisibility	29
Individuality and Distinction	33
Individuality and Division	37
Individuality and Identity	38
Individuality and Impredicability	41
Individuality as Noninstantiability	43

2. Extension of 'Individuality'

Realism: Nothing that Exists Is Individual	60
Transcendental Realism	60
Immanent Realism	64
Appeal and Weakness of Realism	67
Nominalism: Everything that Exists Is Individual	69
Essential Nominalism	70
Derivative Nominalism	82
Appeal and Weakness of Nominalism	84
Eclecticism: Some Things that Exist Are Individual and Some Are Not	85
Bare Particular View	86
Characterized Particular View	90
Bundle View	92
Appeal and Weakness of Eclecticism	94
Extension of 'Individuality'	94
Preliminary Clarifications	95
To What Things Do Individuality and Universality Extend?	96
Do Individuals and Universals Exist?	104
Summary	112

3. Ontological Status of Individuality

Medieval Controversy	118
Contemporary Reformulation	121
Wrong Ontological Interpretations	123
Individuality as Mode	134

4. Principle of Individuation

Individuation of Substances	143
Bundle Theory of Individuation	144
Accidental Theories of Individuation	150
Essential Theories of Individuation	155
Extrinsic Theories of Individuation	161

Individuation of Features	162
Substance Theory of the Individuation of Features	163
Feature Theory of the Individuation of Features	164
Individuation of Other Entities	165
Principle of Individuation	166
The Problem and the Alternatives Revisited	166
The Existential Theory of Individuation	170

5. Discernibility of Individuals

Discernibility of Individual Substances	183
Spatio-Temporal Theory of Individual Substance Discernibility	184
Bundle Theory of Individual Substance Discernibility	191
Sui Generis Theory of Individual Substance Discernibility	193
Discernibility of Features	193
Discernibility of Features through Substance	193
Discernibility of Features through Features	195
Principle of Identity of Indiscernibles	196

6. Reference to Individuals: Proper Names, Definite Descriptions, and Indexicals

Proper Names	203
Reference View of Proper Names	204
Descriptivist View of Proper Names	209
Causal View of Proper Names	211
Threefold View of Proper Names	216
Definite Descriptions	227
Indexicals	229

Assessment: A Metaphysics of Individuality
