

Studies in Philosophy and the History of Philosophy

Volume 16

Being and Predication
Thomistic Interpretations

by Ralph McInerny

THE CATHOLIC UNIVERSITY OF AMERICA PRESS
Washington, D.C.

Contents

Preface	vii
Acknowledgments	xi
1. St. Thomas Aquinas: An Overview	1
2. Beyond the Liberal Arts	25
3. The Prime Mover and the Order of Learning	49
4. Ontology and Theology in the Metaphysics of Aristotle	59
5. Thomas on Book Delta of the Metaphysics	67
6. Ultimate End in Aristotle	79
7. Boethius and St. Thomas Aquinas	89
8. Albertus Magnus on Universals	115
9. Albert and Thomas on Theology	131
10. St. Bonaventure and St. Thomas	143
11. Scotus and Univocity	159
12. A Note on Thomistic Existentialism	165
13. Being and Predication	173
14. Esse ut Actus Intensivus	229
15. Philosophizing in Faith	237
16. On Behalf of Natural Theology	247
17. Can God Be Named by Us?	259

18. The Analogy of Names Is a Logical Doctrine	279
19. Apropos of Art and Connaturality	287
20. Maritain and Poetic Knowledge	303
Index of Names and Topics	315
Index of Texts of St. Thomas Aquinas	321