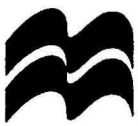
Democratization and Bureaucratic Neutrality

Edited by

Haile K. Asmerom

and

Elisa P. Reis



Contents

Contributors xi

Preface and Acknowledgments xv
Haile K. Asmerom and Elisa P. Reis

In memory of Dr Haile Asmerom xviii
Elisa P. Reis

Part I
Theoretical Perspectives 1

1 Introduction 3
Haile K. Asmerom and Elisa P. Reis
References 17

2 The Concept of Neutrality 20
Gerald E. Caiden
Introduction 20
The Idea of Neutrality 21
The Rarity of Neutrality 24
Neutrality is not Simple or Necessarily Desirable 27
The Question of Values 28
The Problem with Neutrality 31
The Reality of Bureaucratic Power 38
Conclusion 41
Bibliographical Note 44
References 44

3 Neutrality and Professionalism in the Public Service 45
Demetrios Argyriades
Introduction 45
The Birth of a Profession 46
The State and Its Guardian Elite 49
The Progress of Democracy and Its Effects on Civil Service Neutrality 53
Neutrality Revisited 55
The Cold-War Years of Boom 56
Effects of the Global Recession 58
An Attack from the Radical Right... 60
...and the High-Tide of Populism 63
Professional Autonomy: That is the Issue 66

Conclusion 70
Notes 72
References 73

4 Democracy and the Neutrality of Public Bureaucracy 78
Michiel S. de Vries
Introduction 78
The Concept of Neutrality in Public Bureaucracy 80
The Subservient Civil Servant 84
The Representative Civil Servant 86
Specialization and Efficiency 92
Diminishing Bureaucracy to Increase Political Authority 96
Conclusion 99
References 103

Part II
Democratization and Bureaucratic Neutrality with Reference to Eastern Europe 107

5 Reforming Eastern European Bureaucracy: Does the American Experience Apply? 109
Vitche Gabrielian and Frank Fischer
Introduction 109
Communist Bureaucracy: Centralized Power 110
Communist Bureaucracy and the Cadre Administration 113
Public Administration: the American Model 114
Implications for Reform: from Communist to Democratic Cadre 119
Concluding Remarks 123
References 124

6 The Impact of Democratization in Central and Eastern Europe: With Special Reference to Poland 127
Rainer Pitschas
Introduction 127
Democratization in Central and Eastern Europe: A Process to Obtain Democracy 128
Democratization as an Integrated Process 129
Fundamentals of the Integration Process 129

Results of Integration in Central and Eastern Europe: An Overview 130
The Challenge of Public Sector Reform 133
Democratization, the Integration Process and Bureaucratic Responsibility 134
Administrative Responsibility and the Neutrality of Public Bureaucracy 135
Conclusion 140
References 141

7 Dilemmas of Reorganizing the Bureaucracy in Poland during Democratic Transformation 144
Jerzy J. Wiatr
Introduction 144
Poland's Experience 1989-1994 146
Conclusion 153
References 154

Part III 155
Democratization and Bureaucratic Neutrality with Reference to African Countries

8 Democratization and the Issue of Neutrality in Nigeria 157
Dele Olowu
Introduction 157
A Profile of Nigerian Society and Government 158
British and American Civil Service Traditions Contrasted 159
The 1988 Civil Service Reforms 161
Evaluation of the Reforms 164
Conclusion 167
References 169

9 Democratization and the Neutrality of Public Bureaucracy in Multiethnic Societies: The Case of Ethiopia 170
Haile K. Asmerom
Introduction 170
Ethnicity and the Ethnic Landscape of Ethiopia 171
Democracy and other Forms of Ethnic Management Strategy 175

The Language Aspects of Ethnic Management Strategy 184
The Need for a Neutral Public Bureaucracy in Ethiopia's Multiethnic Democratic State 186
Conclusion 190
Notes 192
References 194
Annex I: Diagram of family and superfamilies with reference to Ethiopia 199
Annex II: Estimated size of population of the major ethnic groups of Ethiopia in 1970 and 1990 200

10 Neutral Bureaucracy in African Multiparty Democracies: The Experience of Botswana 201
K.C. Sharma
Introduction: Recent Changes for Democratization in Africa 201
Political Leadership and Public Service Bureaucracy in Multiparty States of the Commonwealth 202
The Principle of Political Neutrality 204
Relations between Ministers and Permanent Secretaries 206
'Committed Bureaucracy' and Challenges of Development Administration 208
Public Participation and Public Accountability 211
Conclusion 212
References 213

PART IV
Democratization and Bureaucratic Neutrality with reference to Latin American Countries 217

11 Bureaucratic Elite, Political Culture and Democratization in Brazil 219
Elisa P. Reis and Zairo B. Cheibub
Introduction 219
Bureaucracy in Post-Bureaucratic Authoritarianism 220
The Political Culture of Top Public Officials 223
Competition, Cooperation and Democracy 232
Conclusion 234

Notes 236
References 238

12 Democratization, Unionism and Neutrality of Bureaucracy: The Case of the Bank of Brazil 239
Maria das Graças Rua
Introduction 239
Political Change in Brazil and the Prevalence of Praetorianism 241
Aspects of Brazilian Public Service 243
Public Service Unionism 244
Bank of Brazil: A Public Bureaucracy 246
The Impeachment of President Collor and the Bank of Brazil 247
Conclusion 248
Notes 251
References 252

Part V
Democratization and Bureaucratic Neutrality with reference to Asian Countries 253

13 The Yes Minister Syndrome in India 255
Marina Pinto
Introduction 255
Westminster Model 256
Indian Democracy 258
Indian Civil Service (ICS) 260
Nehruvian Era 262
Neutrality versus Commitment 264
The Yes Minister Syndrome in the 1970s and 1980s 264
Activism of the 1990s 268
Conclusion 270
Notes 272
References 275

14 Civil Service Neutrality in Hong Kong 277
Ian Scott
Introduction 277
Political Neutrality and Loyalty 281
Political Neutrality and Anonymity 287

Political Neutrality and Impartiality 289
Conclusion 290
Notes 292
References 292

15 Transforming the Singapore Civil Service for National Development 294
Jon S.T. Quah
Introduction 294
The British Model of Political Neutrality 294
Public Administration British Style (1819-1959) 296
PAP Government's Motives for Transforming the SCS 299
Attitudinal Reform of the SCS 301
Two Additional Prerequisites for an Effective SCS 305
Lessons for Eastern Europe and the Third World 307
References 310

16 Bureaucracy in a Changing Culture 313
Selo Soemardjan
Introduction 313
The Emerging Republic of Indonesia 316
The Bureaucracy in 1945-1950 316
The Bureaucracy in 1950-1970 322
The Bureaucracy in 1970-1994 328
References 331

Index 333