

Hume's Scepticism
Pyrrhonian and Academic

Peter S. Fosl

EDINBURGH
University Press

Contents

|  |      |
|--|------|
| Acknowledgements  | viii |
| Series Editor's Introduction  | xi   |
| List of Abbreviations and Conventions                               | xii  |
| Introduction: Into Those Immense Depths                                    | 1    |
| Part I: Academic and Pyrrhonian Scepticism,Ancient and Modern  |      |
| 1. Hume and Ancient Academic Scepticism                                    | 19   |
| 1.1 Doubt in the Old Academy   | 20   |
| 1.2 Probabilism, Fallibilism and Belief in the Middleand New Academies | 23   |
| 1.3 The Theoretical Sceptics: Clitomachian andMetrodorian Scepticism   | 31   |
| 1.4 Conclusion   | 34   |
| 2. Hume and the Legacy of Academic Scepticism                              | 39   |
| 2.1 The Career of Academic Scepticism                                      | 39   |
| 2.2 Hume's Academic Scepticism   | 67   |
| 2.3 Conclusion   | 70   |
| 3. Hume and Ancient Pyrrhonian Scepticism                                  | 77   |
| 3.1 Origins: From Pyrrho to Sextus Empiricus                               | 80   |
| 3.2 The Agogê of Appearances  | 85   |
| 3.3 Negative Pyrrhonism: Subversion, Suspensionand Silence             | 87   |
| 3.4 Positive Pyrrhonism: Constructive PhilosophicalTheory              | 98   |
| 3.5 A General Framework for Pyrrhonian Scepticism                          | 109  |
| 3.6 Conclusion   | 110  |

|  |   |     |
|--|---|-----|
| 4.   | Hume and the Legacy of Pyrrhonian Scepticism                            | 117 |
| 4.1  | The Career of Pyrrhonism  | 117 |
| 4.2  | Pyrrhonism in Hume  | 153 |
| 4.3  | Conclusion  | 171 |
| Part II: Hume's True Sceptical Philosophy |   |     |
| 5.   | Phûsis : The Fatalities of Appearance                            | 187 |
| 5.1  | The Fluvial and the Necessary:The 'Current of Nature'               | 189 |
| 5.2  | Apelletic Empiricism and the Priority of Hume'sSceptical Naturalism | 202 |
| 5.3  | The Fatalities of Nature and Human Empereia                      | 208 |
| 5.4  | Conclusion  | 209 |
| 6.   | Ethos : The Great Sceptical Guide                                | 215 |
| 6.1  | Inhabiting the World  | 215 |
| 6.2  | Sceptical Politics  | 232 |
| 6.3  | Scepticism and Religion   | 238 |
| 6.4  | Conclusion  | 252 |
| 7.   | Technai : Dogmatism and the Technologies of Doubt                | 260 |
| 7.1  | A Caveat and a Reminder   | 261 |
| 7.2  | Epistemological Dogmatism   | 265 |
| 7.3  | Metaphysical Dogmatism  | 290 |
| 7.4  | Conclusion  | 302 |
| 8.   | Pathê : Hume's Non-Dogmatic Philosophy                           | 311 |
| 8.1  | Hume's Doxastic Scepticism and Non-DogmaticPhilosophy               | 314 |
| 8.2  | Three Kinds of Assent   | 321 |
| 8.3  | Sceptical Science and Dogmatic Hidden Standards                         | 329 |
| 8.4  | Conclusion: An End to the Voyage  | 331 |
|  | Bibliography   | 338 |
|  | Index  | 371 |