

A History of Western Thought

From ancient Greece to the twentieth century

Gunnar Skirbekk and Nils Gilje

London and New York

Contents

Acknowledgements	xvii
Translator's foreword	xix
Introduction	1
1 Pre-Socratic philosophy, with a glance at ancient Indian and Chinese thought	5
The Greek city-state: man-in-community 5
Thales 6
Anaximander and Anaximenes 11
Heracitus, Parmenides, and Zeno 12
The mediators: Empedocles and Anaxagoras 15
Democritus 17
The Pythagoreans 19
A glance at ancient Indian and Chinese thought 21
The background of Indian philosophy 21
The Upanishads 22
Buddhist philosophy 24
The Bhagavad-Gita 26
Confucius 27
Taoist philosophy 28
Questions 30
Suggestions for further reading 30
Primary literature 30
Secondary literature 30
Notes 30
2 The Sophists and Socrates	32
The Sophists 32
Gorgias 34

Thrasymachus	35
Protagoras	35
Socrates	39
Questions	43
Suggestions for further reading	44
Primary literature	44
Secondary literature	44
Notes	44
3 Plato – the theory of ideas and the ideal state	46
Knowledge and being	47
Ideas and knowledge	47
Ideas and the good	50
Eros and education	51
Some objections to the theory of ideas	52
Ideas and totality	52
The analogies	53
The theory of ideas and the role of man	55
Plato's The Republic and the good	55
Education and social stratification	55
Power and competence	58
Man and woman	60
The ethical responsibility of the arts	61
Questions	63
Suggestions for further reading	63
Primary literature	63
Secondary literature	63
Notes	63
4 Aristotle – natural order and man as a 'political animal'	66
Idea or substance	67
Plato and Aristotle	67
Substance and properties	67
Ontology and epistemology	69
Some basic concepts	69
The four causes	69
Change and cosmology	71
Actuality-potentiality and hierarchic-organic world-view	72
Aristotle and ecology	74
Knowledge and praxis	75
Forms of knowledge	75
Anthropology and sociology	78
The good life	80
The just society	81

Art – imitation and catharsis 84
 Questions 86
 Suggestions for further reading 86
 Primary literature 86
 Secondary literature 87
 Notes 87

5 The late classical period

89

Securing the individual's happiness 89
 From Greek city-state to Hellenistic empire 89
 New constellations: individual and universal law 90
 Epicureanism – securing the individual's well-being 91
 Stoicism – securing the individual's happiness 92
 Main points of Stoicism 92
 The Cynics 93
 Greco-Hellenistic Stoicism 94
 Roman Stoicism 94
 Neoplatonism 97
 Scepticism 98
 The sciences and other disciplines in antiquity 102
 Historiography 102
 Medicine 102
 Jurisprudence 104
 Mathematics 105
 Physics and chemistry 105
 Astronomy 106
 Philology 107
 Female scientists in antiquity 107
 Questions 107
 Suggestions for further reading 108
 Primary literature 108
 Secondary literature 108
 Notes 108

6 The Middle Ages

109

Christianity and philosophy 109
 Pope and king: two rulers in one state 111
 Augustine – faith and reason 113
 Philosophy and theology 114
 Refutation of scepticism 116
 Augustine as a Christian Neoplatonist 118
 Knowledge and will 120
 The problem of universals, and the scholastics 121
 Thomas Aquinas – harmony and synthesis 124

Law and justice	124
Ontology	127
Epistemology	130
Anthropology and moral philosophy	132
God and the world	134
The problem of evil	137
Marsilius of Padua and William of Ockham – from synthesis to scepticism	137
Martin Luther – voluntarism and nominalism: faith alone	139
The university tradition	142
Arabic philosophy and science	145
Questions	148
Suggestions for further reading	149
Primary literature	149
Secondary literature	149
Notes	149
7 The rise of the natural sciences	151
The dispute over method	151
Astronomy – Copernicus and Kepler	156
The sciences and the concept of experience	156
Copernicus and the heliocentric system	158
Kepler and the orbits of the planets	159
Physics – Galileo and Newton	159
New discoveries	160
‘ The Galileo Affair ’	161
Deconstruction of the cosmos and mathematization of nature	163
Newton: the triumph of physics	166
The biological sciences	168
Man as sub-jectum	169
Paradigm shift in astronomy	169
Paradigm shift in mechanics	170
Paradigm shift in optics	172
Questions	173
Suggestions for further reading	173
Primary literature	173
Secondary literature	173
Notes	173
8 The Renaissance and realpolitik – Machiavelli and Hobbes	175
Machiavelli – politics as manipulation	175
Politics by contract and politics by natural law – Althusius and Grotius	179
Hobbes – the individual and self-preservation	180

Society as the mechanism of a clock 181

The natural law as a rule of reason 186

Theory of motion 186

Liberality and liberalism 187

Questions 188

Suggestions for further reading 189

Primary literature 189

Secondary literature 189

Notes 189

9 Doubt and belief – man in the centre 190

Descartes – methodical doubt and confidence in reason 190

Cogito, ergo sum 190

God and rationalism 192

The mechanistic world-view and the relationship between soul and body 195

Pascal – the reason of the heart 196

Vico – history as a model 196

Questions 200

Suggestions for further reading 200

Primary literature 200

Secondary literature 201

Notes 201

10 Rationalism as a system 203

Spinoza – God is nature 203

Substance and attribute 203

Necessity and freedom 207

Leibniz – monads and pre-established harmony 209

Purpose and cause – a new synthesis 210

The best of all possible worlds 210

Questions 211

Suggestions for further reading 211

Primary literature 211

Secondary literature 211

Note 211

11 Locke – enlightenment and equality 212

Epistemology and critique of knowledge 212

Conceptual clarification 212

The origin of knowledge 214

Political theory – individuals and their rights 218

Questions 223

Suggestions for further reading 223

Primary literature	223
Secondary literature	223
Notes	224
12 Empiricism and critique of knowledge	225
Berkeley – a critique of empiricism from within	225
‘Esse’ is ‘percipi’ – idealistic empiricism	225
Substance out, God in!	227
Hume – empiricism as criticism	229
Empiricist epistemology – ‘ideas’ and ‘impressions’	229
The Empiricist critique of knowledge – the notion of causality	231
Moral philosophy – the distinction between ‘is’ and ‘ought’	234
Practical confidence and conventions	236
Empiricism and rationalism – lines of conflict	238
Questions	240
Suggestions for further reading	240
Primary literature	240
Secondary literature	240
Notes	240
13 The Enlightenment – reason and progress	242
Modernization and science	242
Worldly well-being	244
Montesquieu – distribution of power and environmental influence	246
Helvétius – the individual and pleasure	247
Economic liberalism	249
Adam Smith	249
Ricardo and Malthus	251
Rousseau – reaction against the philosophy of the Enlightenment	252
Edmund Burke – the conservative reaction	256
Questions	261
Suggestions for further reading	261
Primary literature	261
Secondary literature	261
Notes	261
14 Utilitarianism and liberalism	263
Jeremy Bentham and James Mill – hedonic calculus and legal reform	263
Bentham	263
James Mill	265
John Stuart Mill – social liberalism, and liberality as a condition of rationality	266

- Thomas Hill Green 269
 John Maynard Keynes 271
 Questions 271
 Suggestions for further reading 272
 Primary literature 272
 Secondary literature 272
 Notes 272
- 15 Kant – ‘the Copernican revolution’ in philosophy 273
 Transcendental philosophy – theory of knowledge 273
 Transcendental philosophy – moral theory 280
 Political theory 284
 Judgement – teleology and aesthetics 289
 Questions 290
 Suggestions for further reading 291
 Primary literature 291
 Secondary literature 291
 Notes 291
- 16 The rise of the humanities 293
 Background 293
 Herder and historicism 294
 Schleiermacher and hermeneutics 297
 The historical school – von Savigny and von Ranke 298
 Droysen and Dilthey – the uniqueness of the humanities 299
 The dissolution of the historical school 303
 Questions 303
 Suggestions for further reading 304
 Primary literature 304
 Secondary literature 304
 Notes 304
- 17 Hegel – history and dialectics 306
 Reflection, dialectics, experience 306
 Transcendental preconditions – historically created and culturally relative 307
 Experience as the drama of self-formation 308
 Dialectics and totality 309
 Master and slave – the struggle for recognition and social identity 312
 Tradition as reason – the tension between the universal and the particular 313
 Family, civil society, and the state 315
 Objections to Hegel 316
 The individual has no place in Hegel’s system 316

- Hegel's philosophy is totalitarian* 317
Hegel is 'conservative' 318
Hegel's view of history is overoptimistic 318
Hegel's philosophy leaves no room for ethics 319
Hegel's dialectics is nonsense 319
 Questions 320
 Suggestions for further reading 320
 Primary literature 320
 Secondary literature 320
 Notes 320
- 18 Marx – productive forces and class struggle 321
- Dialectics and alienation 321
 Historical materialism 325
 Productive forces and the relations of production 329
 Surplus value and exploitation 330
 Objections to Marx 331
 Marx's theory undermines itself 332
 Marx's theory is not empirical 332
 Some of Marx's predictions have been wrong 332
 Marx's concepts of class and class struggle are inadequate 333
 Marx neglects the importance of 'the natural conditions' 334
 Marxist socialism is dead 334
 Friedrich Engels – the family from a Marxist perspective 334
 Questions 335
 Suggestions for further reading 336
 Primary literature 336
 Secondary literature 336
 Notes 336
- 19 Kierkegaard – existence and irony 337
- Direct and existential communication 337
 The three stages on life's way 339
 The edifying interpretation 339
 The synthesizing interpretation 341
 The ironic-reflective interpretation 341
 Subjectivity is truth 343
 Democracy as demagoguery 344
 Questions 345
 Suggestions for further reading 345
 Primary literature 345
 Secondary literature 345
 Notes 345

- 20 Darwin – the debate about our conception of man 347
- Natural selection and the origin of man 347
 - Darwinism and sociobiology 350
 - Question 352
 - Suggestions for further reading 352
 - Primary literature* 352
 - Secondary literature* 352
 - Notes 352
- 21 Nietzsche and pragmatism 354
- ‘God is Dead’ – European nihilism 354
 - Critique of metaphysics and Christianity 356
 - Moral philosophy 357
 - Übermensch*, will to power, and eternal recurrence 359
 - Epistemology 361
 - Truth is what works – American pragmatism 362
 - Questions 363
 - Suggestions for further reading 363
 - Primary literature* 363
 - Secondary literature* 363
 - Notes 364
- 22 Socialism and fascism 365
- Communism – Lenin: party and state 365
 - Anarchism and syndicalism 368
 - Social democracy – social welfare and parliamentarism 369
 - Fascism – nationalism and order 371
 - Crisis and action* 373
 - Politics and economy* 374
 - The state and racism* 375
 - Questions 376
 - Suggestions for further reading 376
 - Primary literature* 376
 - Secondary literature* 376
 - Notes 376
- 23 Freud and psychoanalysis 377
- Psychoanalysis: A new view of man 377
 - The dream as a gateway to the unconscious 378
 - Freud’s theory of sexuality* 380
 - The mental apparatus* 381
 - Repressive culture and feelings of guilt 383
 - Psychoanalysis and the philosophy of science 386

Questions	390
Suggestions for further reading	390
Primary literature	390
Secondary literature	390
Notes	390

24 The rise of the social sciences

391

Background	391
Auguste Comte – the ‘high priest’ of sociology	391
Alexis de Tocqueville – American democracy	393
Ferdinand Tönnies – Gemeinschaft and Gesellschaft	394
Georg Simmel – the social tissue	396
Émile Durkheim – society and social solidarity	398
Max Weber – rationality and ‘heroic pessimism’	400
The philosophy of science and ideal types	400
Types of action and forms of legitimization	403
Protestantism and capitalism	405
Weber’s diagnosis of the malady of his day: ‘heroic pessimism’	407
Talcott Parsons – action and function	408
Emotions – emotional neutrality	408
Universalism – particularism	409
Ego-orientation – collective orientation	409
Ascription – performance	409
Specificity – many-sidedness	409
Questions	411
Suggestions for further reading	411
Primary literature	411
Secondary literature	411
Notes	411

25 New advances in the natural sciences

412

Einstein and modern physics	412
From ‘seeing nature as technology’ to ‘seeing nature with technology’	412
A glance at physics	413
Scientific diversity and technological development – the application of science and interdisciplinary approaches	416
Usefulness and limits of instrumental reason illustrated by normative decision theory	416
The need for interdisciplinary analysis	419
Questions	422
Suggestions for further reading	422
Primary literature	422
Secondary literature	422
Notes	422

26 A glance at contemporary philosophy	424
Logical positivism - logic and empiricism	424
New logic	425
Logical positivism and logical atomism	426
Karl Popper and 'critical rationalism'	429
Thomas Kuhn - paradigm shift in the sciences	433
Ludwig Wittgenstein - analytical philosophy as practice	435
Ordinary language philosophy and speech act theory -
Austin and Searle	438
Phenomenology and existentialism - Husserl and Sartre	440
Identity and recognition - Simone de Beauvoir and feminist philosophy	446
John Rawls - justice as 'fairness'	448
Questions	451
Suggestions for further reading	451
Primary literature	451
Secondary literature	452
Notes	452
27 Modernity and crisis	453
Critique of modernity	453
Martin Heidegger - through the poetic	454
Hannah Arendt - Vita Activa	456
Gadamer - the hermeneutic tradition	460
Derrida, Foucault, and Rorty - deconstruction and critique	463
Jürgen Habermas - through the argumentative	466
Questions	470
Suggestions for further reading	470
Primary literature	470
Secondary literature	470
Notes	470
Index	472