1. TURNING NATURALISTIC: AN INTRODUCTION / 1

PART ONE • TALKING ABOUT IT

---

2. BEYOND POSITIVISM AND HISTORICISM / 11

- 2.1. THREE PHILOSOPHICAL GENERATIONS / 11
  - 2.1.1. Dialectics or a Family Affair? / 13
  - 2.1.2. Truths about Nature Don't Come in for Free / 15
  - 2.1.3. How Different Was Kuhn? / 17
- 2.2. IN PRAISE OF THE RECEIVED VIEW (YES) / 19
  - 2.2.1. Clarity and Rigor / 20
  - 2.2.2. Rationality Lost? / 22
  - 2.2.3. Objectivity Relocated / 25
  - 2.2.4. The Price of Extending Science / 28
- 2.3. ALIENATION OF PHILOSOPHY FROM SCIENCE: A 1990S RECAP / 29
  - 2.3.1. "We Live Forward" (John Dewey) / 31
  - 2.3.2. Unity of Science, An Idol of the Philosophical Tribe / 32
  - 2.3.3. Doing It Professionally / 34
  - 2.3.4. Whig Philosophy / 36
- 2.4. WHO KILLED LOGICAL POSITIVISM? / 38
- 2.5. A DECISIVE TRANSFORMATION OF OUR IMAGE OF SCIENCE / 41
- 2.6. UNDERDETERMINED INCOMMENSURABILITIES / 45
  - 2.6.1. Meaning and Reference / 48
  - 2.6.2. Lexical Structures / 51
  - 2.6.3. How Society Enters Theory / 52

- 2.6.4. The Essential Tension between Tradition and Innovation / 55
- 2.6.5. Stage Theories / 56
- 2.6.6. The Nonhistorical Basis of Historicism / 58
- 2.6.7. To Give the Shadow Back to History: How Different Are the French? / 59
- 2.6.8. Beating Kuhn on His Own Ground / 60
- 2.6.9. Historicism without Kuhn? / 63
- 2.7. POSITIVISM AND HISTORICISM BACK TO BACK / 67
- 2.8. THREE WAVES OF EMPIRICAL INFORMATION: A SNEAK PREVIEW / 70

3. TOWARD A NEW THEORY OF SCIENCE: NEW DIMENSIONS, FEATURES, AND APPROACHES / 72

- 3.1. PHILOSOPHY OF WHAT? / 73
  - 3.1.1. Finding One's Niche on the Generality Continuum / 75
  - 3.1.2. History and Philosophy of Science: What Difference Do They Make? / 76
- 3.2. FIRST VOYAGER: FROM ENGINEERING TO BIOLOGY / 78
  - 3.2.1. Discovering Complexity and Messiness / 78
  - 3.2.2. Cybernetics and Computer Simulations / 81
- 3.3. SECOND VOYAGER: FROM ECONOMICS TO BIOLOGY, BACK AND FORTH / 84
  - 3.3.1. The Biological Undercurrent in Economics / 89
  - 3.3.2. No Consolation for the Lakatosian Economist / 90
- 3.4. THIRD VOYAGER: FROM MATHEMATICS TO BIOLOGY / 92
  - 3.4.1. No Consolation for the Lakatosian Mathematician, Either / 92
  - 3.4.2. Explanation as Unification / 93
  - 3.4.3. From Existence to Constructability / 96
- 3.5. MAJOR FEATURES OF A NATURALIZED PHILOSOPHY OF SCIENCE / 97
  - 3.5.1. The Return of Psychologism / 97
  - 3.5.2. How to Get beyond the Purely Descriptive / 99
  - 3.5.3. Rethinking the Analytic/Synthetic Distinction / 101
  - 3.5.4. Immunization and Efficiency / 102
  - 3.5.5. The Revisability of Logic and Mathematics / 104
- 3.6. A TROJAN HORSE: STEPS TOWARD AN ANTHROPOLOGY OF SCIENCE / 105
  - 3.6.1. California Blue / 106
  - 3.6.2. Free-ranging Scientists / 109
  - 3.6.3. A New Church Already? / 110
  - 3.6.4. Behind the Looking Glass Lies a Lab / 111

- 3.6.5. Reflecting on Reflexivists Reflecting on Reflexivity—Full Stop / 114
- 3.6.6. Society Is No Better Explanation Than Nature / 118
- 3.6.7. Learning from Philosophers' Theories of Practice / 120
- 3.6.8. Picking the Losers / 121
- 3.6.9. The Return of the Object / 122

---

4. PHILOSOPHY OF SCIENCE REVISITED / 126

- 4.1. EXPLANATION: THE HEMPEL HERITAGE / 128
  - 4.1.1. Mechanisms Not Laws / 130
  - 4.1.2. Children of Chaos / 133
  - 4.1.3. Distinctions / 134
  - 4.1.4. What If? / 135
  - 4.1.5. Paradoxical Functional Explanation / 136
  - 4.1.6. Good Intentions / 140
  - 4.1.7. Chicago Addicts / 142
  - 4.1.8. Variation versus Development / 144
  - 4.1.9. No Genes Required: A Business Suit Will Do / 146
- 4.2. REDUCTION: WHO HAS THE LAST WORD? / 147
  - 4.2.1. Supervenience / 150
  - 4.2.2. Robust and Reliable Organization / 154
  - 4.2.3. Peircean Cables versus Cartesian Chains / 158
  - 4.2.4. From the Piecemeal Approach to a Theory of Everything / 159
  - 4.2.5. From Inner Environment to Interfield / 162
  - 4.2.6. Ephemeral Interdisciplinarity / 165
- 4.3. THE REALISM-CONSTRUCTIVISM DEBATE / 169
  - 4.3.1. How to Approach Nature / 172
  - 4.3.2. Do the Laws of Nature Lie? / 173
  - 4.3.3. Reality as Immanent to Science / 175
  - 4.3.4. Humans Do Not Process Probabilities on Propositions / 176
  - 4.3.5. Saving the Phenomena from the Realist / 177
  - 4.3.6. Realism versus Constructivism in the Laboratory / 179
  - 4.3.7. What Is the Purpose of All This Equipment? / 182
  - 4.3.8. Have You Talked to the Azande? / 184
  - 4.3.9. Turning the Tables on the Relativist? / 186
  - 4.3.10. Stepping Back from the Tohubohu / 188

---

5. NEW ROLES AND TOOLS FOR PHILOSOPHERS OF SCIENCE / 190

- 5.1. WHO NEEDS PHILOSOPHERS ANYWAY? / 191
  - 5.1.1. From Scholarship to Research / 192
  - 5.1.2. Standing for a Cause Again: The Creationism Debate / 194

- 5.2. UNDERLABORERS / 199
    - 5.2.1. Intuition and Judgment / 202
    - 5.2.2. Eclecticism as the Response to the New Question de Méthode / 203
  - 5.3. DISCOVERY IS EVERYWHERE / 207
    - 5.3.1. The Mystery of the Great Logical Inversion / 208
    - 5.3.2. Robust Bootstrapping / 209
    - 5.3.3. The Invasion of the Social and the Locus of Control / 210
    - 5.3.4. From Global Skepticism to Local and Social Justification / 213
  - 5.4. A GENERAL PICTURE OF THE SCIENTIFIC ENTERPRISE: PROS AND CONS / 214
    - 5.4.1. The Unfathomable Goals of Inquiry / 216
    - 5.4.2. Irréduction / 217
  - 5.5. THE SEMANTIC VIEW OF THEORIES: A NEW TOOL FOR THE TRADE / 219
    - 5.5.1. Specifying Blank Slots with Particulars / 220
    - 5.5.2. The Model-Theoretic Version / 224
  - 5.6. A ROLE FOR METHODOLOGY AFTER ALL? / 227
    - 5.6.1. Limits of Internalization / 230
    - 5.6.2. "Methodology" as Part of the Rhetoric of Science / 231
    - 5.6.3. More Methodology, Please! / 232

P A R T T W O • D O I N G I T

- 6. PHILOSOPHY OF BIOLOGY / 237
  - 6.1. THE VIEW FROM WITHIN / 239
  - 6.2. GETTING A GRIP ON EVOLUTIONARY THEORY / 242
    - 6.2.1. A Theory of Forces / 245
    - 6.2.2. Heritable Variation in Fitness / 246
    - 6.2.3. The Nature of Fitness / 247
  - 6.3. THE MISSING HALF PANCAKE: THE ELUSIVE ENVIRONMENT / 248
    - 6.3.1. Genes Do Not Code for Traits / 249
    - 6.3.2. The Social Environment / 250
    - 6.3.3. Culture Transcending Biology / 255
    - 6.3.4. The Importance of Frequency-dependent Selection / 256
  - 6.4. THE SOCIAL CONSTRUCTION OF GENES AND ECOSYSTEMS / 259
    - 6.4.1. A Primer on the Secret of Life? / 259

- 6.4.2. Genes Cannot Replicate Themselves / 261
  - 6.4.3. Who Is the Boss around Here? / 262
  - 6.4.4. Against Hyperreflexivity / 264
  - 6.5. THE UNITS-OF-SELECTION CONTROVERSY / 265
    - 6.5.1. Causal Analysis of the Units of Selection / 268
    - 6.5.2. Additive and Nonadditive Variance in Fitness / 269
    - 6.5.3. Words about Models / 271
    - 6.5.4. The Evolutionists' Boston Tea Party / 274
    - 6.5.5. The Importance of the Replicator/Interactor Distinction / 277
    - 6.5.6. Provincials? / 278
  - 6.6. WHAT EVOLVES? RECONSIDERING THE METAPHYSICS OF EVOLUTION / 278
    - 6.6.1. Don't Turn Your Gold Ring into Lead! / 279
    - 6.6.2. Genealogy and Similarity / 282
    - 6.6.3. Reference Classes versus Particulars / 283
- 7. EVOLUTIONARY EPISTEMOLOGY / 286
- 7.1. IS IT EPISTEMOLOGY? / 287
    - 7.1.1. Passing the Justificatory Buck to Evolution / 288
    - 7.1.2. Descartes as a Brain Physiologist / 293
    - 7.1.3. An Evolutionary Theory of Scientific Belief Validation / 294
    - 7.1.4. The Role of Nature Herself / 295
    - 7.1.5. Selecting the Vicarious Selectors / 297
    - 7.1.6. The Ideology of the Scientific Revolution / 299
    - 7.1.7. Evolutionary Naturalism, Vintage 1992 / 300
  - 7.2. THE EVOLUTIONARY APPROACH TO SCIENCE / 303
    - 7.2.1. What Scientists Agree About / 303
    - 7.2.2. Threats to the Social System of Science / 306
    - 7.2.3. Speciating Cladists / 307
    - 7.2.4. Intentionality Doesn't Make Much of a Difference—Or Does It? / 309
    - 7.2.5. Let's Keep Science and Politics Separate / 311
    - 7.2.6. Evolution or History? The Sociologist Strikes Back / 312
    - 7.2.7. Le Roi est mort—Vive le roi! / 316
  - 7.3. A TOOL FOR THE HISTORIOGRAPHER / 318
    - 7.3.1. Tu Quoque, Edinburgh / 319
    - 7.3.2. Evolutionary Eclecticism / 321
    - 7.3.3. Contaminated by Your Object / 323
    - 7.3.4. How to Get at the Real Stuff / 324

7.3.5. You Really Have to Know What They Think They Are Doing / 325
7.3.6. The Generative Entrenchment of Scientific Ideas / 331
7.4. IN THE REAL THIRD WORLD, PEOPLE DIE / 334
8. COGNITIVE APPROACHES TO SCIENCE AND PHILOSOPHY / 338
8.1. STEPS TOWARD A COGNITIVE SCIENCE / 338
8.1.1. The Procedural Turn / 341
8.1.2. Let's Do the Two-Four-Six / 342
8.1.3. Micro Macro / 346
8.1.4. Diary Men / 347
8.1.5. Controversy Studies / 348
8.2. VARIETIES OF COGNITIVISM / 349
8.2.1. From Crusoe to Connectionism / 350
8.2.2. Ye Goode Olde Epistemology Again? / 352
8.2.3. The Implausibility of Sentences in the Head / 353
8.3. GIBSONIAN ATTRACTIONS / 356
8.3.1. Concepts and Categories / 358
8.3.2. Ecological Validity / 360
8.4. RECONSIDERING THE MIND/BRAIN ISSUE / 362
8.4.1. So Many Isms . . . / 362
8.4.2. Consciousness Is Not a Unitary Thing / 368
8.4.3. Real Intentions / 368
8.4.4. The Dismissal of Folk Psychology: Liberation or Oppression? / 370
8.5. NEUROPHILOSOPHY / 372
8.5.1. There Isn't Any Meaning Juice in the Chinese Room / 372
8.5.2. The Devil Must Have Taken You! / 375
<hr/>
9. DEVELOPMENT, LEARNING, AND CULTURE / 377
9.1 WHY GENETICS IS NOT ENOUGH, I: THE RETURN OF ONTOGENY / 378
9.1.1. The Developmental Lock Model / 379
9.1.2. Beyond the Nature/Nurture Dichotomy / 380
9.2. WHY GENETICS IS NOT ENOUGH, II: THE BIOLOGY OF BEHAVIOR AND LEARNING / 387
9.2.1. Genetic Cost/Benefit Analysis / 387

- 9.2.2. Is It a Boy or a Girl? / 390
  - 9.2.3. From Politics to Reaction Norms / 392
  - 9.2.4. Needed: More Sophisticated Evolutionary Theory / 394
  - 9.2.5. Why Children Hate Spinach / 400
  - 9.2.6. Man the Hunter, Woman the Gatherer / 401
  - 9.3. THE MISSING LINK: EVOLUTIONARY PSYCHOLOGY? / 403
    - 9.3.1. Gene-Culture Coevolution? / 405
    - 9.3.2. A Cheat-detecting Social Contract Algorithm / 408
    - 9.3.3. Overhearing a Coffee Room Conversation / 411
  - 9.4. FITNESS, THE BUGBEAR OF EVOLUTIONARY BIOLOGY / 414
    - 9.4.1. Digressing on Truth / 415
    - 9.4.2. Cultural Fitness / 418
  - 9.5. GETTING A GRIP ON CULTURAL TRANSMISSION / 419
    - 9.5.1. Human Language as an Ideal Cultural Transmission System / 421
    - 9.5.2. Super Sex / 422
  - 9.6. IS CULTURAL EVOLUTION LAMARCKIAN? / 423
    - 9.6.1. Propaganda and Contagion / 427
    - 9.6.2. Learning Rules / 429
- 10. PHILOSOPHY MOVES ALONG / 432
- 10.1. EVOLUTIONARY ETHICS / 433
    - 10.1.1. From Spencer to Haeckel to Hitler / 434
    - 10.1.2. A Collective Illusion of the Genes / 436
    - 10.1.3. The Refusal of a Slice of Kidney Pie / 438
    - 10.1.4. Consequence, Intention, Free Will / 440
  - 10.2. THE EXPLOSION OF PHILOSOPHY OF SCIENCE / 442
    - 10.2.1. Supersmart Individualists? / 443
    - 10.2.2. Philosophy of Science is Wandering Aimlessly / 445
    - 10.2.3. New Imperialistic Temptations / 446
  - 10.3. PHILOSOPHY EDUCATION / 447
    - 10.3.1. The Technical Imperative / 449
    - 10.3.2. The Use of the Computer in Class / 451
  - 10.4. LET US NOT FORGET GERMAN HISTORY / 452
  - 10.5. GENDER STUDIES / 455
    - 10.5.1. Biased Explanations of Human Female Sexuality / 457
    - 10.5.2. Confusing Generations / 458
