

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
Preface Richard Sorabji	ix
Textual Emendations	xi
Translation	1
1.1 (1) The purpose of the Topics	3
(2) Dialectic defined	3
(3) Dialectic and rhetoric	5
(4) What is a 'topic'?	7
(5) The syllogism defined	8
(6) Species of syllogism	17
(7) The dialectical syllogism	20
(8) The contentious syllogism	22
1.2 Uses of the study	30
1.3 Goal of the study	35
1.4 Propositions and problems	37
1.5 Definition, distinctive property, genus and accidental	44
1.6 Relations between the predicables	57
1.7 Sameness	61
1.8 The list of predicables is exhaustive	66
1.9 Predicables and categories	70
1.10 The dialectical proposition	73
1.11 (1) The dialectical problem	79
(2) The thesis	84
1.12 Species of dialectical argument: syllogism and induction	92
1.13 The instruments	94
1.14 Collection and classification of propositions	96
1.15 Distinguishing uses of terms	103
1.16 Discerning differences	122
1.17 Observing similarities	125
1.18 The instruments evaluated	127
Notes	135
Bibliography	187
English-Greek Glossary	191
Greek-English Index	198
Subject Index	225