

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
Introduction	1
Note	23
Abbreviations	25
Textual Emendations	27
Translation	31
What is the soul's essence?	31
Bodies act and are modified in virtue of non-bodily items	36
The demonstration that the soul is a form	39
'In something' [is said] in how many ways?	40
The soul is inseparable from the body whose soul it is	44
The soul is not one of the simple bodies	46
The soul itself just on its own is unchangeable	48
The soul is not a harmony	51
The parts of the soul: how many and which ones?	53
That there are not infinitely many powers of the soul	53
There are two kinds of nourishment	59
On the activity of being nourished	61
Heat is the soul's tool for nourishing [oneself]	61
Why parts detached from plants live and develop, while those from animals no longer do	63
On the soul for perceiving	64
On what is intrinsically and extrinsically perceptible	66
How there comes to be light in the transparent	68
Commentary	71
Bibliography	169
English-Greek Glossary	177
Greek-English Index	189
Index of Passages Cited	215
Subject Index	237